SMITH GIRL DEFENDED BY CHUMS

Declare Student Who Admitted Thefts at College Is Suffering from Mental Derangement

Northampton, March 21.—Miss Irene Vose of Westerly, R. I., the Smith College girl who pleaded guilty to the larceny of jewelry and other articles from her fellow-students, paid a fine of $250 in court today.

The young woman, who is to be taken home by her mother, is said by friends to be suffering from mental derangement due to oversstudy. College authorities who allowed the girl to be arrested are being severely criticised, the claim being made that her condition necessitated a physician instead of a policeman.

The young student broke down and wept when brought face to face with the consequences of her acts, and asked that her parents be kept in ignorance of her plight. Friends notified them, however, and Mrs. Vose hurried to Northampton to help her daughter.

Captain Harris G. Leroy, $1,565.
Captain Lombard Williams, $426.
Captain J. Mitchell Galvin, $229.

There are about forty teams in all, and a team of boys from the club has raised $19.

PAPER LEFT NEARLY BLANK BY CENSOR

Paris, March 21.—All records of the newspaper censorship have been surpassed by No. 1005 of the Toulouse Ecole Latique, a four-page weekly, of which 2¾ pages are entirely blank, only a few lines of advertisements remaining.

On the day after it was issued the editor received this telegram, signed "Old Subscriber": "Continue your magnificent campaign. You have my enthusiastic support."

GERMAN AIRMEN USE NEW BOMBS

Paris, March 21.—A German aviator has dropped several smoke bombs near a French battery. This is the first time since the war began that such bombs have been used. Not in themselves dangerous, the bombs give forth an intense smoke, which persists for a long time and serves as a guide for the hostile artillery.

Latest War Bulletins

Copenhagen, March 21.—A number of British submarines have been sighted south of the Cattergat, says the Dagens Nyheter. The presence of the British war craft off the Swedish coast caused a sensation in Sweden. A large flotilla of German torpedo boats passed through the Sound this morning, steaming northward.

London, March 21.—A dispatch transmitted by the Rome wireless today says:

"The occupation of Trebizond, Mosul, Bagdad, Kalputh and Diarkebr, in Turkey, by Russian troops of Grand Duke Nicholas is imminent."

(Occupation of the cities mentioned in the Rome wireless telegram would give the Russians complete control of Armenia and Mesopotamia, cut the Constantinople-Bagdad line of communication and doom the Turkish army that has been fighting the British in the Persian Gulf theatre of war.)

Petrograd, March 21.—Capture of Ispahan, the important Persian town which became the goal of the Russians following the capture of Kirmanshah, is announced in an official dispatch received from Teheran today. The Russian forces entered Ispahan on Sunday.

WOMAN DOOMED TO THE CHAIR IS SAVED

By International News Service.

Raleigh, N. C., March 21.—Governor Locke Craig today saved from death in the electric chair Mrs. Ida Hall Warren, who had been sentenced to death on March 31 for the murder of her husband. The Governor granted commutation of sentence to Mrs. Warren and also to Samuel P. Christy, her accomplice in the murder.

The Governor took his action after a hearing that lasted for several hours. Many organizations in North Carolina had protested against the proposed execution of Mrs. Warren, who was first white woman ever sentenced in North Carolina to die in the electric chair.

Mrs. Warren and Christy killed G. J. Warren, the woman's husband, on August 18, 1914. The wife had informed Warren as he slept and then called Christy, who strangled the helpless man to death. Warren's body was stuffed into a trunk and taken eight miles to a creek into which it was thrown after heavy weights had been attached. A heavy rain washed up the body and the arrest and conviction of the pair followed.

ALLIES STILL SHELL THE DARDANELLES

Constantinople, March 21.—That allied warships are still bombarding the Turkish defences on the Dardanelles intermittently is shown by the following official statement issued here today:

"Dardanelles front: On the afternoon of March 19 a torpedo boat and a cruiser shelled the neighborhood of Seddel-Bahr and Tekke Burnu. The bombardment was unsuccessful and the ships soon retired.

"Yemen (Arabia) front: A British division with two machine guns advanced in the direction of El Salle, north of Sheik Hosman, and was attacked by our troops. The enemy fled."

ALL AEROPLANES IN RAID SAFE, SAYS BERLIN

By International News Service.

Berlin, March 21.—All the aeroplanes that took part in the raid over the southeast coast of England returned safely to their base, according to an official statement issued today by the German admiralty.

Military establishments at Dover, Deal and Ramsgate were shelled with good effect, it was stated.

The text of the official statement follows:

"On Sunday afternoon a squadron of naval aeroplanes bombarded military establishments at Dover, Deal and Ramsgate. In spite of vigorous firing from land batteries, the airmen scored numerous direct hits, with good effect.

"All the aeroplanes returned safely."

The British Admiralty reported that one of the four raiding German machines had been shot down into the North Sea.

THREE WOUNDED IN SINN FEIN RIOTING

DESTROYER FIGHT OFF BELGIUM

British and German Admiralty Reports Conflict; Each Claims Victory and Says Enemy Fled

By International News Service.

London, March 21.—German Admiralty and British Admiralty reports of a battle between German and British destroyers off the Belgian coast are in direct contradiction.

Both sides claim the advantage. Each declares the enemy fled.

The German official statement says:

"Yesterday, off Flanders, a fight in which we were successful occurred between three German torpedo boat destroyers and five English destroyers. The enemy broke off the engagement after he had received several direct hits. He steamed out of sight at full speed. We suffered no important damage."

The British report says:

"Yesterday morning four British destroyers sighted three German destroyers off the Belgian coast. The German immediately turned and ran for Zeebrugge, chased by us. Shots were exchanged during a running fight. Two of the enemy's boats were hit. Our casualties were four wounded."

Copenhagen, March 21.—A number of British submarines have been sighted south of the Cattegat, says the Dagens Nyheter. The presence of the British war craft off the Swedish coast caused a sensation in Sweden. A large flotilla of German torpedo boats passed through the Sound this morning, steaming northward.

FRENCH DRIVEN BACK

Paris Admits Loss of Avocourt Wood Near Verdun, but Says Cost to Germans Was Enormous

London, March 21.—All the French positions northwest of Avocourt wood have been captured by storm by the Germans, it was officially announced today by the German War Office. The Germans captured 32 officers and 2,500 men there.

Counter attacks by the French were unsuccessful, the German report says.

Avocourt wood lies at the southeastern edge of Malancourt forest, about seven miles northwest of Verdun, on the west bank of the Meuse.

The French, in their official communique today, admit the loss of Avocourt wood, but declare that it was taken only at enormous cost and that the Germans were prevented from debouching from the wood by a withering curtain of fire.

The German official report says:

"West front.—West of the Meuse, Bavarian regiments and battalions of the Wuerttemberg Landwehr, after careful preparations, captured by storm the entire positions of the French northeast of Avocourt wood. In addition to considerable losses, the enemy lost thirty-two officers and more than 2,500 men as prisoners.

"All were unwounded. Two of the officers were commanders of the regiments. We also captured much war material.

"Counter attacks failed to bring the

Dorsey was almost lynched by angry tea-masters because of his insults to Miss McCarthy, and police officers were forced to battle with guns and clubs in order to get him safe to the Lagrange street station.

PLEDGE BELGIUM VOICE IN PEACE PLANS

"Recently England, France and Russia informed the Belgium Foreign Office that Belgium would take part in the peace conference when the war ends," said Sir Edward. But hostilities will never cease until Belgium's integrity is guaranteed and the country is indemnified. The allies will help her to recover economically when the war is over."

Officials said there was no special significance attached to the movement of the warship. The battleship Kentucky arrived at Galveston today.

TOWN WIPED OUT; REPORT 20 SLAIN

By International News Service.

Galveston, Texas, March 21.—The little town of Delicias in southwestern Coahuile, was wiped off the map by bandits last week, according to stories reaching the border today.

It is said that more than twenty of the inhabitants were killed during the raid and that every house was burned after being robbed. Whether any Americans lost their lives in the raid is not known.

The stories reaching the border declare that the raiders were remnants of defeated Carranza soldiers in the State of Durango. All horses and cattle were driven off by the bandits.

Several of the dead, it is said, are women who protested against their homes being robbed. At the Cathedral one of the priests was killed and the church was robbed and burned.

El Paso, Tex., March 21.—Twice defeated in one day by Carranza soldiers who stood the test and baffled his attempts to escape, Francisco Villa has rallied his forces and was reported today as marching toward the northwest from Namiquipa.

If he continues along this route, he will come directly into the jaws of the trap formed by three columns of American cavalry.

SEEK PROTOCOL ON VILLA WITH CARRANZA

Washington, March 21.—President Wilson today decided upon the formation of a protocol to be signed by Representatives of the United States and the de facto government of Mexico, covering the co-operative movements

AEROPLANES HUNT FOR OUTLAW.

Unless Villa, by one of the dashing manoeuvres for which he is famous, doubles on his trail and escapes between the American and Carranza soldiers who hem him in, it is expected that before night he will be making his last fight.

The American cavalry, though worn by its rapid march into Mexico, is reported in advices received at General Gavira's headquarters in Juarez to have been sent forward at a still faster pace to join battle with Villa's band.

Aeroplanes sent forward from Columbus are said to be flying over Villa's forces and making frequent reports to General Pershing as to the movements of Villa and his forces.

The International News Service announced Monday that Villa had divided his followers into two bands. This was officially confirmed later by the reports received by General Gavira. One of the bands was defeated at Las Cruces Monday morning by Carrancistas. The other was whipped at Namiquipa in the late afternoon.

VILLA IS BAFFLED IN FIGHT TO ELUDE TRAP

UNITED STATES TROOPS CLOSE.

During the battle, according to the Carranza reports on the engagements, the bandits succeeded at Las Cruces effected a junction with the forces of the Namiquipa faction to the north-west of Namiquipa, only twenty-eight miles from the leading American column.

General Gavira believes that Villa's commissariat toward the point for which the American troops were advancing was with the hope of reaching an ancient trail a few miles north of Namiquipa by which he could dodge back toward Balcorea.

The Villistas defeated at Las Cruces were led by the bandit colonels in person. Villa is said to have sent with him about 800 men. They were opposed by 300 Carrancistas. The battle was fought on the banks of the Santa Maria River, which Villa was attempting to cross.

The Carrancistas held good positions and were able to repulse three different assaults. When the Villista attacks developed the Carranza troops took the offensive and drove Villa's forces into headlong retreat.

Villa's force in the Las Cruces battle was larger than that which he had with him in the Columbus raid. He had gathered in many volunteers during his retreat from the border. Though practically as strong as the Carrancista on the Santa Maria, Villa is said to have wished to avoid conflict at this time, but was forced to by his own men. Most of his recruits had been gathered on the promise of a fight with American troops. Villa had boasted that he could whip the whole force.

Villa's characteristic tactics called for a swift sure retreat in case of defeat. But the Carrancistas were prepared. They began to fire as soon as Villa's horsemen came in sight.

When the Villistas finally fled the Carrancista commander immediately sent dispatches to General Gavira in Juarez reporting a decisive victory over the Villa forces.

The Carrancistas' position at Namiquipa is part of the trap set in the campaign plans of General Gavira. Who outlined them last week to the correspondent of the International News Service during a visit at Juarez headquarters.

Carrancista garrisons form a triangle the peak of which is at Chihuahua. The American troops from the north were chasing Villa into this narrowing line of Carranza soldiers when the Las Cruces fight began.

The American soldiers headed for the Villa country are in three detachments, but these are re-operating closely. One of these started for the Lower Babicora district. The others started in two columns from Casas Grandes and divided at Galeana, south-west of Casa Grandes. One detachment pressed forward to Las Cruces, the other branching off and covering the trail from Las Cruces to Babicora.

AERO SQUADRON BUSY.

General Pershing is in constant touch with his three detachments. The advance of the American troops makes almost imperative the use of the Mexican Northwest line, according to military officials here. However, moving today by reports that General Obregon would consent to the use of the railway.

Las Cruces is approximately 200 miles from the border and the transportation of supplies and ammunition to the point was a problem which would have confronted the Mexican Villa should he be able to avoid a decisive battle.

If Villa does escape capture or death at this stage the aero squadron which is now with General Pershing's command will play an important part in locating the bandits, as well as the crazy horses Villa has cached away in the hills.

It is the hope of officials that he can take a band of 1,000 men 400 feet off any main trail in the country and hide them from any army.

SOLDIERS ARE HELPING.

The Americans' progress in the pursuit of Villa is not a problem, which is now bothering General Pershing. Villa should he be able to avoid a decisive battle.

soldiers are helping the Americans to catch Villa. We are fighting him right now, and I hope the Americans will get there soon.

General Luis Gutierrez, commander of all the forces in Chihuahua, is rushing to the scene from the capital of the State.

General Gavira was then loading 200 men at Juarez and started them south immediately. These were to be followed by the cavalry command of General Maldonado, just arrived from Sotillo.

PERSHING WIRELESSES NEWS.

The first confirmation came over the wires of the Mexican Northwestern, but details were lacking.

General Pershing's first wireless to General Funston was sent from Galeana. He was believed to have been working south when couriers from the Carrabalistas brought news of the fighting.

It was evident that he did not expect Villa to stand and fight as he gave no order at Namiquipa. This theory was based on the disposition of United States troops in an effort to entrap the bandit.

One detachment was sent to Carmen on the Rio Carmen, which is east and southeast of Namiquipa. These men are believed by army strategists to have been recalled. The flying squadron which started for El Valle was moving on a direct line south for Namiquipa.

Natives Friendly, Reports Funston

Washington, March 21.—Secretary of War Baker today allowed to become public a few extracts of General Funston's report which relate to General Pershing's expedition.

The report, so far encountered by the expedition have been mild; friendly, General Pershing reported. There have been comparatively little sniping.

Villa, from all accounts, lost 200 men in the raid on Columbus and the subsequent running retreat. General Pershing said these included killed, wounded and deserters.

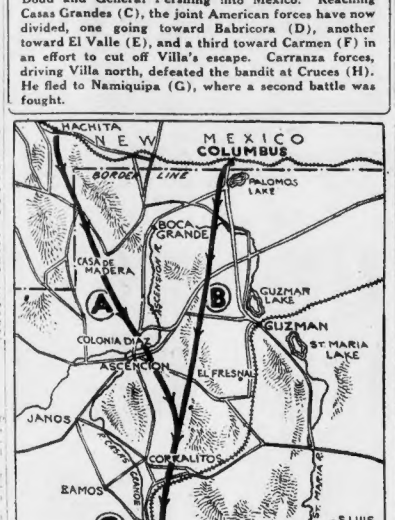
The American troops were hailed as rescuers by the Mormon colony at Dublan, which for week had been living in daily fear of massacre by Villa's bandits.

Will Deport Mexicans Who Make Trouble

By International News Service.

San Antonio, Texas, March 21.—Mexicans who are temporarily residents of San Antonio and elsewhere in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, who attack the United States by writing or speaking, become troops enter Mexico, or who seek to inflame Mexicans, will be deported.

The announcement is made by Federal officers that the United States government will not tolerate intrigue, but will deport all undesirables who, in turn are likely to be shot by their friendies in Mexico. Immigration agents are active all along the border.



MAP OF THE MEXICAN MAN-HUNT—Lines A and B indicate respectively the advance of Colonel Dodd and General Pershing into Mexico. Reaching Casas Grandes (C), the joint American forces have now divided, one going toward Babricora (D), another toward El Valle (E), and a third toward Carmen (F) in an effort to cut off Villa's escape. Carranza forces, driving Villa north, defeated the bandit at Cruces (H). He fled to Namiquipa (G), where a second battle was fought.

VILLA BATTLES DESPERATELY WITH PURSUING CARRANZA FORCES

By H. H. STANSBURY.

El Paso, Tex., March 21.—Francisco Villa was in a desperate battle with Carranza forces under Colonel Cano at Namiquipa last night at 8 o'clock, El Paso time. Here the bandit leader turned on his pursuers and made a stand after a running fight which started at Las Cruces during the forenoon.

United States troops from the command of Colonel George A. Dodd were hurrying to the support of the Carrancistas from El Valle. Another detachment was following the trail which leads to the pass through the mountains to Babicora. It was believed Villa would retreat in the direction of Laguna Babicora.

The total number of United States troops now in Mexico was fixed at 5,000 by an army authority. Half of this number have crossed the border since the original expedition started out. Others are still going across.

General Pershing was believed to be hurrying to the scene of battle. The section of the Mexican Northwestern Railroad south from Casas Grandes to Cumbre and beyond was under-stood to have been taken in charge by General Pershing to send reinforcements and supplies to Dodd's men.

EL PASO IS THRILLED.

The news of the fighting sent a thrill through El Paso such as had not been experienced since the last time Juarez was taken. First a wireless leak told that Pershing had reported to Funston that Carrancistas had engaged Villa at Las Cruces and defeated him. Then General Gavira, commander of the Juarez garrison, began getting messages over the Mexican Federal telegraph lines. The information was only fragmentary during the first two hours.

At 6:20 last night Mexican Consul Garcia rushed breathlessly into the International News Service bureau with this dispatch:

Having acted as messenger himself to get the news out first, Garcia turned to me and said with a dramatic gesture:

Now you can see the Carranza

AMEND RESERVE PLAN IN HAY ARMY MEASURE

Washington, March 21.—Without objection from Representative Hay, chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, the House today adopted without debate an amendment to the Army bill proposed by Representative Kahn of California, giving the President the right at any time to call into active service the 60,000 reserves which will be formed in four years under the proposed law.

Senator Harding of Ohio, in a sensational attack on the Tillman armor plate bill in the Senate, today charged that ammunition manufactured by the government has been shown by actual test to be really inferior to private-ly produced cartridges.

"The machine guns which failed to work at Columbus, N. M., were of Federal adoption and manufacture and had displaced arms which were produced by private enterprise," declared Senator Harding.

With a certainty that the Hay army bill will receive final approval in the House before the end of the week, the big military army advocates today were lining up for a clash between the Senate and the House that may seriously interfere with the preparedness program.

The House will stand by its limit of 140,000 men for the regular army, expandible to 175,000 by executive order if war impends. The Senate will pass by an overwhelming majority within the next fortnight the Chamberlain bill, making the regular army limit at war strength 254,000, creating a volunteer army of 261,000 and increasing the National Guard to 280,000, and will fight hard to have its figures accepted by the House.

It was learned today that the President will stand behind the general principles of the House measure. He is said to be convinced that the Hay bill is feasible but that the Chamberlain plan is not.

The fact the higher army officers have favored the Senate proposition has led to investigation as to motives in certain quarters. Information has been conveyed to the White House that the real reason that the general staff has favored the Senate program is because it is believed that with it in effect it quickly would be shown that it is impossible to recruit any such force under the present system of pay and allowances and that the way would thus be opened for compulsory military service.

Pershing Divides His Cavalry Forces

By OTHMAN STEVENS.

San Antonio, Texas, March 21.—General Funston's latest wireless from General Pershing placed Villa near Las Cruces, and Pershing having been defeated in a battle by Carranzista troops. Three cavalry columns of Pershing's force were spreading out from Casas Grandes in the hope of enveloping Villa.

One of the columns was well on its way to Lake Babicora, below the Cumbre tunnel, seventy miles as a wise crow would fly from Casas Grandes.

The third was galloping for Carmen, sixty-two miles southeast of Casas Grandes.

Meanwhile the troops of what is termed the main column were working out of the main line between Columbus and Casas Grandes.

FUNSTON IS HOPEFUL.

General Pershing's message said that Villa's defeat by Carrancistas at Las Cruces was "unofficially" learned, but it was evident that he placed considerable reliance on the report. That Villa is northbound, as the message indicated, shows that he was hard pressed. Villa's loss in the Columbus raid is now known to have been 200 men.

"It begins to look hopeful," said General Funston.

The general is satisfied that Pershing's men are in the neighborhood of Villa, but he is not exactly hopeful however, as he says, "Villa is in a wide country."

Adjutant General Funston had placed the positions of the United States troops on the big map in his office. He gravely remarked:

CARRANZA DELAYS ANSWER.

Though Carranza has agreed, according to the request of the United States for permission to use the Northwestern Railway from El Paso to Casas Grandes for the shipment of supplies to the punitive army, news from the front shows that the troops are getting their supplies from the Mormon colonies and that a supply of alfalfa is on hand for the horses.

General Funston is taking no chances on the railway question and has requisitioned fifty-four more motor trucks for use on the line between Columbus and Casas Grandes.

The army officers now at Casas Grandes, or probably beyond, with the three flying columns. Every requirement of the forces is being met, and the cavalry is going the chasing, with the infantry plugging along holding positions of restraint against Villa, while the biplanes are spying his hiding places.

It is a tremendous task to maintain supplies by motor cars in such an abominable country, but it is being done, and will be done, until General Funston is sure he determines whether he really wants Villa caught or only opens the railway facilities.

Even then it would take some time to replace the bridges Villa destroyed, but General Funston makes rather light of that; he believes the army engineers could make a quick job of opening the line.

HOW TO GET RID OF DANDRUFF

This Home Made Mixture Removes Dandruff and Stops the Hair From Falling Out.

The following simple recipe which can be mixed at home, or put up by any druggist, will quickly remove dandruff and stop the hair from falling out.

To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, 1 small box of Barbo Compound, and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until the mixture is used. A half pint should be enough to rid the hair of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out, and relieves itching and scalp diseases.

Although it is not a dye, it acts upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.

3—Common use of the railways of both countries for movement of supplies and munitions to troops so engaged.

AID FOR CARRANZA.

Every effort, it was said by members of the Cabinet, will be extended by this government to make easier the task of First Chief Carranza in organizing and maintaining a stable government south of the Rio Grande.

The legal forces of the State and War Departments were put immediately to work on the agreement following the cabinet meeting. It will be emphasized in the protocol that the United States does not want the use of Mexican railroads for transportation of its troops, but for supplies only. It is not believed that the Mexican people, excitable in any event, would take kindly to Mexican railroads being utilized to transport "enemy troops."

The agreement will be in the main an acceptance by the Wilson administration of the suggestions made yesterday by Eliseo Arredondo, Carranza's ambassador designate, to Acting Secretary of State Polk.

Whether the agreement will be forwarded to First Chief Carranza through Designate Arredondo here, or special Agent Rogers, now with him at Queretaro, has not been decided.

Secretary of War Baker, who left before the cabinet all the reports from General Funston relative to the situation along the border, and the position of the Pershing expedition. The Mexican situation occupied the entire time of the meeting.

Acting Secretary of State Polk lingered at the White House after most of the members had departed, going over with the President some of the most intimate details of the situation. Then he returned to the State Department and began the preparation of a tentative draft of the document which will tighten the friendly relations between Carranza and the United States.

Secretary Baker announced, following the meeting, that fifty-four more motor trucks have been ordered for immediate delivery for use of the Pershing expedition.

WHITAKER KEPT HIS WHISKERS

Albert O. Whitaker, Brighton cattle dealer, over whose will a contest is being waged by his two brothers, refused to cut his whiskers off at one time for fear of catching cold, and had often requested Miss Jennie E. Hyatt to marry him, according to her testimony before Judge Hardy and a jury in the Suffolk Superior Court.

Miss Hyatt was the greatest beneficiary under the will, and related her early days in the Province of Quebec, where she lived near the wife of Mr. Whitaker, before her marriage.

After the death of Mr. Whitaker, the witness said, Mr. Whitaker asked her to take the position of housekeeper and she received $3 a week for her services. He had a number of suits of clothes, but Miss Hyatt said she never saw her employer wear silk hose on his Boston trips.

Whitaker never had extravagant things on his table and never drank cream for his complexion, Miss Hyatt said. She never visited a burlesque show with Mr. Whitaker and had never been invited by him.

Mrs. Margaret D. Ring, former nurse for Mrs. Whitaker, said she had heard of the talk of Whitaker intending to marry Miss Hyatt or Miss Evelyn Claire Fox of Sherbrooke, Que., and the witness said she told Miss Fox that "if she married an old man like Mr. Whitaker she would never be able to battle with the world like the rest of us women."

BACK BAY MAN STRUCK BY AUTO

James J. Phelan, forty-five, of no. 714 Commonwealth avenue, is dying at the Commonwealth Hospital as the result of being struck by an automobile driven by James McDonald, twenty-one, of Renfrew street, Roxbury.

McDonald was arrested charged with violation of the automobile law.

The accident occurred on Commonwealth avenue, near St. Mary street. Phelan was about to cross the street when the machine, owned by James McGann of North Beacon street, and containing two men besides the driver, approached.

According to the police, McDonald threw over his wheel and the car shot off at a tangent with a terrific momentum. The rear wheels skidded on the snow covered pavement, and whipped Phelan off his feet.

He was taken to the hospital in the machine of George Crow, no. 373 Columbus avenue, where he was found to have sustained concussion of the brain, a possible fractured skull, and contusions and abrasions of the face, shoulders and left leg. The McDanal machine was wrecked.

FAIL TO FIND TRACE OF DEDHAM MAN

Jeremiah F. O'Neil, twenty-eight, of No. 28 Eastern avenue, Dedham, missing from home since March 8, is being sought by his wife, formerly Miss Emma Dorsette, who fears he may have met with foul play. She has failed to find him in hospitals in and about Boston and has conferred with the police. O'Neil was employed in the milk and cream depot of John E. Fisher, Dedham. He is five feet four inches and weighs 138 pounds. When he disappeared he wore rubber boots, blue overcoat, blue serge suit, blue soft hat and had a signet ring with a lion's head attached.

Babies' Rights Is Slogan in Great Contest for Prizes

Boston Youngsters Have Chance for National Honors

Each Baby Has an Opportunity Through Development and Care to Stand High in Ranking

Rights for babies!

This is the legend to be inscribed on the banners of the National Baby Contest. The contest is to be held in every city of the United States where there are Hearst papers.

The National Baby Contest will mean rights for babies because it will encourage good babies.

It will encourage good feeding, tender care, scientific development of bone and muscle and careful watching of babies.

Some 100 per centers are born, others are developed. Mother, your baby has a chance.

If it is already a 100 per cent. baby, enter it in the contest. If it isn't, then give it the rights of proper feeding, development and care, and enter it.

Have it win the grand prize for being the best baby in the United States, or have it win one of the best baby prizes in the New England district.

Ten Day Left in 'Baby Film' Contest

Ten days more before the closing of the Scenario Contest, which was started by the Boston AMERICAN in connection with the "Baby Week" recently held in Boston with such marked success.

One of the contest rules provides that scenarios must be mailed so as to reach the office of the AMERICAN by midnight of March 31, 1916. Today is the 21st. Only ten days left for the scenario writers.

Louis Agassiz Archer, the Lynn philanthropist, offers a cash prize of $100 for the best scenario on the subject of "Better Babies." Only clergymen may compete, but there is no restriction as to residence or denomination.

The contestants may submit as many scenarios as they desire, but the offerings must be original, and the decision as to winner must rest with the contest judges.

Mr. Archer is for the "Better Babies" movement, so the scenarios must develop that point. Rule 2 of the contest specifies as follows:

"The scenarios written for this contest must deal with the underlying facts of the "Better Babies" movement. They must give striking presentation of these facts by a contrast of babies properly raised with babies who lack proper raising.

"For instance, the baby raised by intelligent parents in proper manner can be compared with the baby reared in filth, deprived of those advantages and opportunities, and the case illustrated have to fit it for its adult years."

The clergymen-contestants may, of course, draw from their own natural experiences for ideas and plot.

BOATS USED IN BIG WOBURN MAIN BREAK

"Well, Spring is here," said Patrolman Bernard Murphy to Patrolman Alonzo O'Brien as he looked at his watch at 12:01 a. m. today on Main street, Woburn. "No, it isn't," added Patrolman O'Brien. Just then a rumbling sound caused both to jump with a start. One of the city's water mains burst in Main street and Mann's court. The water spouted fifteen feet in the air, resembling a huge geyser. It took the employes of the Woburn water department more than two hours to repair the break. A number of cellars were flooded and it was necessary to use portable boats to move along Main and intersecting streets.

CRUELTY STORIES WIN TWO DIVORCES

Terrifying in the Divorce Court today, Mrs. Sadie Baldwin declared that her husband asked her to work shortly after they were married in 1911 and she claims that when she refused to do so he struck, pinched and bit her. Judge O'Connell granted Mrs. Baldwin a divorce on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment. Mrs. Ida Learner was granted a divorce from her husband, Joseph, when she testified that he threw a pitchfork at her and on one occasion hurled their baby into its carriage.

MAN IN WAGON IS STRUCK BY TRAIN

Bridgewater, March 21.—Leonard C. Mitchell, sixty-five, is at the Brockton Hospital in a dangerous condition as the result of injuries received today when his wagon was struck by a train at the Summer street grade crossing in this city. The horse shattered on the tracks just as the 7:40 from Middleboro arrived, and was hurled forty feet. The animal was later shot. Mr. Mitchell was thrown some distance and picked up unconscious. It was feared that his skull was fractured.

MANY RESCUED FROM FIRE IN BROCKTON

Brockton, March 21.—Fire drove twenty-two tenants to the sidewalk in scanty attire early today from the three-story tenement at No. 37 Shepard street. The fire threatened to consume the entire block.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Carlson and their nine-year-old daughter Dorothy, who occupied the top tenement, when they discovered all escape cut off by stairways, rushed to the front piazza and prepared to leap to the street.

Police and firemen warned them back until assistance could reach them.

Patrolmen Daniel T. Guerin, George J. Smith and George E. Linehan, Assistant Fire Chief William F. Doley and Hoseman E. Forester Marlston, with smoke masks and blankets wrapped about them, fought their way up stairways filled with dense smoke to the top floor where they seized the terrified Carlson family and dragged them to safety.

Mrs. Elmer Burlson, in whose tenement on the second floor the fire started, was treasurer of the "Daughters of Empire" an organization engaged in making supplies for the Red Cross. A closet in her room which was filled with bandages, clothing etc., was swept by the fire, and all the materials destroyed. Many contributions were also lost.

Firemen were able to gain control before a serious damage resulted. The loss was estimated by the police at $2,000.

LODGE APPEALS FOR CAMP AT PLATTSBURG

In a statement made public today through the Military Training Camps Headquarters in Boston, Senator Lodge called upon the business men of Massachusetts and of New England to help those in their employ who desire to do so to attend the Plattsburg camps this Summer.

"I hope that all employers in trust companies, banks, insurance companies and industrial establishments will help those in their employ who are of a suitable age to go to the Plattsburgh military training camps this Summer," said Senator Lodge. That will be a contribution to the men who manage our financial and industrial establishments could make in no other way and ought to be of immense value.

"It is rather a painful illustration of the inadequacy of the army of the United States that the operations on the Mexican frontier have compelled the withdrawal of the officers who were to give instructions at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia.

"It is very necessary that the splendid work begun at the Plattsburg camps last Summer be continued.

"The bills before Congress have failed to make provisions for what is the most essential thing in our national defence, so far as our army is concerned, and that is a large reserve of United States troops which can be quickly mobilized in case of an attempted invasion.

"The bills in the Senate and House, however, recognize the Plattsburg camps and the intention is to make it a government camp."

SAYS SEER HAD AID OF LAWYER

Dr. Wiley Tells How to Have Better Babies; Urges Campaign for the Education of Parents

By DR. HARVEY WILEY.

Washington, March 21.—For many years I have preached the gospel of better babies. The first consideration is the effort of hereditary. If we are to have better babies we must have better fathers and mothers. To this end we must have a rigid registration of all vital statistics in order that the vitality, health and length of life of all prospective parents may be on record.

By means of such a system of registration we shall be able to determine what the prospects of vigor and vitality are in the child from a study of his line of descendants. Wedding certificates should be extended so as to include fitness for parenthood.

It is a crime against the criminals and against the unborn child for parents inflicted with incurable diseases to bring children into the world. Especially must we guard against every taint of the social disease which, while not always inherited as such, tends to bring into being a race of children of low vitality.

A campaign of public education should be inaugurated to induce persons voluntarily to refrain from matrimony when they are convinced that they are physically unfit for its duties. It is not so bad to be an old bachelor or an old maid.

The world is full of splendid opportunities of service for those who voluntarily forego the rights of parenthood for the exercise of the higher interests of humanity.

People with this spirit of sacrifice are entitled to the supreme value to the State in other unselfish ways.

Especially should intending parents know the principles of human nutrition. There is no more important business than that of rearing children. At the present time we bring the best and most important of all business undertakings with a supreme ignorance of its fundamentals. How can parents be expected to properly nourish their children if they know nothing of the principles of child nutrition?

Parents understood how to feed their children we would not find 9 per cent. of the 8 at teeth among the children of this country. If they understood the proper balancing of a diet we would not have so many sunken cheeks, flat chests and anaemic blanks in our children. If they understood the principles of nutrition we would have few cases of pellegra or scurvy among our children.

It is not difficult to know what foods contain and the essential elements of growth. It is only for us to learn that if candy and sugar and starch and fat are allowed to crowd proteins and minerals out of the diet of a child the result will be necessarily disastrous.

HOUSEMAIDS NOW WANT $12 A WEEK

Denver, March 21.—Twelve dollars weekly salary—not pay—"dandies" off," shorter hours, politer treatment and "followers" allowed are the terms demanded by the members of the Denver Housemaids' Union, formed at a secret meeting.

The Housemaids will not order a general strike, but will adopt a system of sabotage which, it is expected, will wreck the ladies' nerves. For each maid will serve meals late, smile at the master and refuse the "situation" before a week ends. Between "situations" she will live in a house from which she is rented.

A list of practically every "lady of the house" here is being made, on which her characteristics will be described without mincing words.

"We will gain what we want or every mistress in Denver will cook her meals and scrub her kitchen floor," boasted the leader of the union. She has red hair.

SPRING HERE? SURE, JUST SEE THE SNOW

Spring began today officially.

If you don't believe it, look at the snow.

March 21 is the time for "vernal equinox" and all that sort of thing, sixteen. So Spring started today. But it wasn't much of a start. It was nothing but a couple of flakes and they fell soft down.

The beginning of Spring, officially for 1916 in Boston was not marked by any particular exercises, except the sprinkling of pedestrians trying to walk along snow and slush-topped sidewalks without falling down.

The only character of note in connection with the beginning of Spring (official) was another snow storm, about the 26th, 27th or 28th Boston has had. The count has become rather hazy, but an extra flake or two won't matter in the total. Later the sun came out and lent a really springlike coldness to the day.

$2,000 VERDICT FOR DEATH BY AUTO

A $2,000 verdict was returned in the Middlesex County Court today in the suit brought by Thomas Jackson of Boston against Gustaf E. Johnson of Melrose for the death of his son, Arthur H. Jackson, as a result of an automobile accident on Revere Beach boulevard in 1914.

ROXBURY MAN HELD AS BOGUS ATTORNEY

George O. Grant of Sterling street, Roxbury, was held in $500 in the Roxbury court today on a charge of having pretended to be a lawyer and in $100 on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences from Martin Sullivan of No. 96 Hammond street, Roxbury.

DR. CARLOS E. HUSK DIES OF TYPHUS

By International News Service.

Laredo, Tex., March 21.—Dr. Carlos E. Husk of Mount Sinai, New York, hospital of the Guggenheim Foundation, who was stricken with typhus in Mexico and brought to Laredo ten days ago, is dead.

The arrest of a prominent Boston lawyer, accused of being the "man behind" in connection with the swindling of Mrs. Jennie Gordon of No. 14 Venis road, Dorchester, out of $11,000 last Thursday by a "seer" in Canada, leaves the "Sir Thomas Melville" in expected any moment, according to a statement given to the AMERICAN today by Mrs. Gordon at her home.

Mrs. Gordon says the first to be given to any paper, as told by Mrs. Gordon, is a remarkable one. It reveals one of the boldest alleged "dupes" ever carried out in Boston. In her statement she tells of the hypnotic power which she claims "Sir Thomas" influenced over her.

She also tells of the dramatic moment when she handed him one bill-fold containing $11,000 bills, together with $140 in smaller bills. She accuses a well-known lawyer with being the ring leader of a quartet of professional crooks.

She also described in detail the incident of a year ago, when she was induced to put out $1,000 in a similar manner. That affair, she stated, was in March, just one year ago.

MADE ILL BY HER LOSS.

So mortified is she over the fact that she has been duped twice with in a year that she is in a critical condition. She refuses all nourishment, she has not eaten for forty-eight hours. She has slept none. She is under the constant care of a physician and nurse. She claims that she has been robbed of every cent she possessed. The Cambridge police have been notified of the latter. They will not divulge his name, but state that he is being watched.

Mrs. Gordon's story follows:

This affair is the last straw. It has completely unnerved me. In fact, I don't mind telling you I don't want to live.

I have not eaten a solitary thing for forty-eight hours. I'm not going too, either. A year ago I took this same kind of course in a similar manner.

That affair is too horrible. I simply cannot stand it. What a fool I have been! I should have known better after I got cheated the first time.

I just cannot get along without the money. My income, alone, I was over $1,200 a year. I have always managed to get good things, and even though my husband earns a good salary, and is ever so kind to me in every kind of way, he, I cannot see how I'm ever going to get along without it.

SAYS LAWYER IS INVOLVED.

It's a long story. There's a prominent lawyer mixed up in it. He'll be arrested, I think, today or tomorrow. He is the "man behind" who holds all the strings.

I really believe that the man was introduced to me a year ago with Mozette. The two, I believe, are coached by this attorney.

Anyway, I was being watched. This lawyer acted as my counsel in the case I mentioned before. When I got into this trouble he was eager to handle this case for me. He wanted $1,000 just the other day to see this case through. He wanted $25 as a retainer.

I told him that he wanted the $1,000 for and he stated that it was for his services. He added that he would get my money back for me. He is Mozette's lawyer, too, I have since learned. And you see they are all in it together.

I have known Mozette about five years. He is a shark, shrewd business man. He induced me to sell all of my holdings for the $11,000 in $1,000 bills and the rest in smaller bills.

When he showed it to him he smiled and counted it. He then gave it to me. I put it in an envelope and placed it in my muff. Just as I was about to leave he said:

"Now, Mrs. Gordon, I want you to leave that money with me overnight. In the morning I shall see my agent, and the proper investments can be made. I promise you that I will telephone you just what the investment will be, and what time I will meet you."

I had started for the door with my money in my muff. I consented to leave it with him. That's the last I ever saw of the money.

I left the money with him. Once he asked me for $5,000 to invest. As I did not hesitate in giving it to him. As I did not he laughed, pushed the money back and remarked that he didn't want it, but was just trying me out to see if I trusted him.

Dooley, counsel for the Lehigh Valley Railroad, announced today that the company will build a gigantic freight terminal for railroads and steamship Atlantic liners on the Jersey City shore of New York Bay. MRS. BEATRICE F. AUSTIN, whose husband alleges gross intoxication in divorce libel. She will fight the case.

WIFE IS SUED; ASKS CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

Mrs. Beatrice F. Austin of No. 113 School street, Jamaica Plain, prominent in Greater Boston social affairs, was in the divorce court today to ask for the custody of her four children. Her attorney, James M. Graham, said a divorce action by Mr. Austin is pending.

Judge O'Connell refused to take action on Mrs. Austin's motion. He suggested it would be best for the mother to care for them until the divorce action is settled. He informed counsel that if there were undue reason for separation he would consider the matter next Monday.

Mrs. Austin's children are Edith A., Walter K., Harry F., and Herbert N. They are now with their mother at the home of relatives.

In his libel, Austin charges "gross and confirmed habits of intoxication." Mrs. Austin denies these charges.

BRAINTREE MAN ASKS FOR DIVORCE

Now Mr. Edwards wants a divorce on the grounds of desertion. He asserts she left him and went to live in Malden on November 26, 1915. He filed a divorce libel in the Norfolk County Probate and Insolvency Court today.

ORPET IS GRANTED CHANGE OF VENUE

Waukegan, Ill., March 21.—Will H. Orpet, University of Wisconsin student, account of killing Mariam Frances Lambert, was granted a change of venue from Judge C. C. Kadyk of Naperville, to another judge of the same circuit. The petition alleged that Judge Edwards was prejudiced against Orpet.

POOR FOOD CLAIM AT RUTLAND

Charges that patients at the Rutland State Sanatorium have been so hungry as a result of poor food served them that some of them have risen from their beds in the night and begged food from other patients were made today following the food strike at the institution.

Other charges made were:

That breakfasts served patients are so poor that inmates often accept a raw egg in the place of the meals on the menu.

That potatoes served are black and soggy.

That bacon is served half raw and cold.

That food placed on the table at the noon meal is greasy and unappetizing.

It developed that instead of a peaceful demonstration, the strike became noisy, with the strikers shouting and cheering, and yelling for "better food."

TRUSTEES MAKE INQUIRY.

Meanwhile, the trustees of the State Hospitals and Committees are investigating the demonstration, and will decide whether the food is to be changed, or if the leaders of the food strikers are to be disciplined. The patients say they are "standing on their rars" in the hope that their protest may result in the remedying of their grievances.

Patients in the strike took issue with the official version of the trouble given out yesterday by the hospital authorities. They say that instead of a mute protest by male inmates there was a vigorous voicing of the institution's needs in the food line, and that instead of "forty or fifty," at least a hundred patients participated.

Further, exiled statements that there had been no previous complaints. They insisted that there had not only been complaints, but that they had sent samples of the poor food served them to the superintendent, Dr. Elliott Washburn, for his inspection.

MATTHEWS HITS ASSESSOR CHANGE

The legislative petition which would give the State Tax Commissioner the right to appoint all local assessors was vigorously opposed by Frederick P. Fish, representing Boston, for the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, and Corporation Counsel Sullivan, for the City of Boston today before the Committee on Taxation at the State House.

Mr. Matthews also opposed the bill giving the State Tax Commissioner power to revise local assessments.

NEW GERMAN GAIN AT VERDUN AT BIG COST

enemy any advantage. On the contrary, we inflicted serious losses upon him.

"East of the Meuse the positions are unchanged.

"East front—The Russians are extending their attacks to the northernmost end of the front, North of Riga they were repulsed with sanguinary losses, and also on the Dvina River (Dvina and west of Jakobstadt.

"Strong reconnoitring detachments advanced against the German lines northwest of Postawy and between Narocz Lake and Wiszniew Lake and delivered attacks both day and night, but failed to achieve any success.

"The losses of the enemy were proportionate to the number of troops employed.

"Because of the distance which I protruded, our salient on the front south of Lake Narocz was withdrawn a few hundred yards toward the Heights of Illientzi in order to avoid the circling fire of the enemy."

The text of the French official communique follows:

"In Belgium a reconnaissance force of the enemy which had broken into our lines north of Boesinghe bridge was immediately driven out by our counter-attack.

GREAT ARTILLERY ACTION.

"In the Argonne our artillery is showing great activity on the southern border of Cheppy forest.

"West of the Meuse, the Germans made numerous attacks during the night, renewing their assaults against our Avocourt-Malancourt front, where a bombardment with shells of large calibre has continued without interruption. Their attacks were accompanied by the throwing of liquid fire by detachments of soldiers carrying special apparatus.

"Despite the severe loss inflicted by our fire, the enemy succeeded after a hand-to-hand battle in capturing the southeastern part of Malancourt wood, which we occupied and which bore the name Bois d'Avocourt (Avocourt wood). All the efforts of the enemy to debouch from the woods were checked.

"The night was quiet in the other sectors of the Verdun region."

KAISER BATTERS APPROACHES TO VERDUN IN VAIN FOR A FULL MONTH

By a Staff Correspondent of the International News Service.

Paris, March 21.—Today sees the end of the month in which the Kaiser has vainly battered at the approaches to Verdun, the "gateway to Paris."

The authorities whom I have consulted today, while unwilling to confirm categorically that the battle of Verdun is ended, unanimously declare that, even though a semblance of the battle persists for a few days longer, it is henceforth an undeniable fact that Prussia has been disastrously defeated at the hands of General Petain's men.

The increasing weakness of the German attacks on "Dead Man" and the Vaux forts in recent days, are pointed to as convincing proof of the failure to force the Kaiser's road to victory across the Meuse Heights has been irrevocably blasted.

"GERMANS UNNERVED."

The words of an artillery officer, who witnessed the last serious attack on Vaux, on Saturday, strikingly emphasized the discouragement, which, I am told by the best sources, prevailed in the shattered Teuton ranks.

"With my field glasses," he said, "I watched successive waves advance to the assault. The first German column advanced in excellent order, but no sooner were they caught under the devastating fire of our batteries than they were seized with ruinous panic.

"It was in vain that their leaders sought by encouragement and coercion to rally them.

"I perceived plainly that the month long inferno had completely unnerved them. No human power was capable of longer dispelling the excessive terror with which they were shaken, in the face of thousands upon thousands of ghastly corpses strewn over the battlefield at their feet.

SEE FRENCH VICTORY.

"They knew a like fate awaited them before our lines, and they broke and fled."

The Journal des Debats, recognized as the most conservative paper in France, proclaims Germany's defeat with these words:

"Let us examine the situation as the month-long battle of Verdun draws to a close.

"Germany wanted to anticipate and break down the powerful artillery activity by administering a crushing blow at the Meuse fortress. She failed.

"She wanted to envelope and capture the big French unit there. Our line remains unbroken.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any druggist a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly, you moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

ACUTE AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM

The exact cause of rheumatism is unknown, though it is generally believed to be due to an excess of uric acid in the blood. It may be also said with equal truth that no remedy has been found which is a specific in all cases. In fact the literature of rheumatism shows that there are but few drugs which have not been given a trial. In the hands of one observer we find that a certain drug has been used with the utmost satisfaction; others have found the same remedy to be a great disappointment. All physicians however agree that every method of treatment is aide.; by the administration of some remedy to relieve the pain and quiet the nervous system and Dr. W. B. Schultze expresses the opinion of thousands of practitioners when he says that anti-lambin tablets should be given preference over all other remedies for the relief of the pain in all forms of rheumatism. These tablets can be purchased in any pharmacy, and are also unsurpassed in lumbago, neuralgias and all pain. Ask for A-K Tablets.

To Keep Your Skin Free From Hairs

(Beauty Topics)

If you are willing to spend a few minutes' time in your room using a delatone paste, you can easily banish any ugly, hairy growth without discomfort or injury. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is then spread over the hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rubbed off and the skin washed and dried. You will not be disappointed with this treatment, providing you get real delatone.—Advertisement.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

For 25 cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. But the delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most of all, after a few weeks use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggistore or toilet counter and just try it!—Advertisement.

How to Safely Peel Your Face

If you wear an aged, discolored or weather-beaten complexion, the most sensible thing to do is to remove it—rather than patch it over or "doctor" it with cosmetics. The only way to really remove the complexion—suffix from resorting to an expensive and painful surgical operation—is by means of ordinary mercolized wax. Spread the wax over the face at night, as you would cold cream, and wash it off in the morning. This gradually peels off the lifeless and the half-dead outer skin, in minute particles—gradually the fresh young skin beneath becomes forth. Then you have a clear, velvety, healthy-hued complexion such as no unnatural method can possibly produce. Freckles, blotches, pimples—all surface defects due to weather, ill health or the ravages of time, of course, disappear with the discarded skin. Ask the druggist for an ounce of mercolized wax; you won't need more.

If you wear wrinkles or crowsfeet, the best thing to do is to bathe your face in a harmless lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. Nothing else will so surely erase the unwelcome lines.—Advertisement.

WAR SUMMARY

Official bulletins today indicate that the Germans are preparing an attempt to crush the French lines west of Dead Man's Hill. The effect of such a move, if successful, would be to force the withdrawal of the French from Bethincourt, leaving Dead Man's Hill surrounded on three sides. Attacks on Melancourt Wood, in this new maneuvre, have thus far resulted in slight gains for the Germans.

Interesting light is shed on the battle of Verdun by a statement which evidently comes from official sources in Paris, reciting in detail the story of the first days of the battle. The points of interest may be summarized thus:

1—When the attack began, the French believed it was a feint, and only normal reinforcements were sent until the Germans drove in the French lines to the Douaumont-Bras line of defenses. Then French reserves were poured in and halted the advance.

2—The Germans have adopted new tactics for attacking entrenched forces, tactics designed to save themselves infantry losses. The German statements have heretofore asserted this was true, but have not given details. The French statement now confirms the assertion.

The method involves four steps: (a) Levelling fortifications with artillery fire; (b) sending forward small reconnoitring parties not large enough to be worth artillery fire, but in the aggregate strong enough to seize and hold any undefended trench, crater or defensive work; (c) sending forward sappers and engineers in small detachments to repair the ruined trenches and make them capable of effective defence; (d) advancing infantry to occupy the prepared positions.

Considerable losses come only in the final stage, which was usually carried out under cover of darkness. Before this the accepted tactics in attack have been to destroy trenches, and then to send forward the assaulting troops, in the face of heavy fire, accepting losses.

The Russians in Bessarabia have captured Uscieszko, a strongly fortified town and hill dominating one of the crossings of the Dneister north of Czernowitz. German, Austrian and Russian bulletins agree that the Russian attack is being developed in strength. Uscieszko, however, is the first important capture. The Russian artillery gave an impressive demonstration of power in destroying the fortifications here.

The Italians report that they repulsed an Austrian attack on their trenches and arrested the Austrian progress, and then "retired about 500 yards from a portion of our advanced lines."

Artillery and bomb fighting featured the front in Flanders.

The chiefs of the war departments and of the foreign departments are gathering for a council in Paris. Meanwhile J. P. Morgan returns from Europe, and forthwith information or rumor causes a collapse of war stocks on the New York and Boston exchanges, while Galveston shipping firms report that charters of their vessels for war freight have been cancelled because London believes "immediate peace is in sight."

Destroyers have clashed off the Belgian coast, four British vessels putting three German ships to flight.

RUSSIANS TAKE AUSTRIAN STRONGHOLD IN GALICIA

By International News Service.

Vienna, via Berlin wireless, March 21.—After a gallant defence of six months by Austro-Hungarian troops, Usciesczko, on the Dneister River, north of Czernowitz, has been captured by Russians, it was admitted today by the Austrian War Office.

The Russians have also gained a crossing of the Dneister at that point.

The Austro-Hungarian commander evacuated the forts northwest of the town to avoid useless losses from the Russian artillery, which was carrying out a violent bombardment of the place.

The attack on Usciesczko was part of the general drive by the Russians on the southern end of the battle front by which they hoped to open up a path through Bukowina.

Following is the text of the Austrian report:

East front—Yesterday, after six months of brave defence, the bridges and fortifications northwest of Usciesczko were evacuated, having been changed into a heap of ruins by the Russian artillery.

BLAST A BREACH.

"The Russians had already succeeded in blasting a breach 200 yards wide in the bridge, nevertheless, our soldiers, who were outnumbered eight to one, succeeded in withstanding the Russian attacks for seven hours in spite of all losses and the violent artillery and infantry fire of the enemy.

"At 5 o'clock in the afternoon Colonel Flanokh, commanding the Austro-Hungarian forces at Usciesczko, decided to evacuate the trenches, which, by this time, had been practically destroyed by the Russian shell fire.

"Small detachments, carrying their wounded with them, succeeded in reaching the south side of the Dneister in boats. Usciesczko being on the north bank, but the artillery fire of the enemy was then concentrated on the stream and it was impossible for any more boats to cross.

"The Emperor's dragoons and sappers, refusing to surrender, decided to fight their way through their fortifications through the town of Usciesczko, which was strongly held by the Russians, and join other Austro-Hungarian forces on the heights north of Zaleszczicki.

MARCH SUCCEEDED.

"The march through the enemy's lines succeeded. Under the protection of darkness Colonel Flanokh led his troops through the Russian position, joining the forces north of Zaleszczicki this morning.

"Southwest front—On the Gorizia bridgehead the Austro-Hungarians with their artillery set fire to the Italians' positions before the southern part of Podgora heights.

"In the afternoon the Austro-Hungarians' artillery heavily shelled the Italians' front before the bridgehead.

"In a night attack we dislodged the enemy from a trench before Peuma.

"Engagements at Tolmino bridgehead resulted in the positions remaining firmly in our hands. The number of Italians captured in the fighting there has reached 925. Seven machine guns were taken.

"Several attacks by the enemy against Mrzli and Krn Heights broke under our fire.

"On Rombon height our troops dislodged the enemy from his positions, capturing 145 men and two machine guns.

"Lively actions on the Carinthian front continue.

LONDON HEARS RUMORS PEACE IS NEAR

By W. ORTON TEWSON,
Special Correspondent of International News Service.

London, March 21.—News that, following the return of J. P. Morgan to New York, rumors of a quick peace were circulated in Wall Street bears out the optimistic spirit markedly noticeable here during the last two weeks.

Whatever Morgan may have told his friends confidentially as to terms, the fact remains that there are certain undoubted earmarks which point to the war's ending considerably sooner than most people estimate.

PROSPECTS INCREASED.

As stated in my dispatch of March 11, when Mr. Morgan sailed he was known to be very well satisfied with the result of his visit here. Much depends upon Verdun and now that that is no longer in question, the prospects for the allies and peace are increased accordingly.

Within the last few days I have heard of wagers for substantial sums being made in financial circles here that peace negotiations will be begun within ninety days.

Recent news from Germany shows that at best the state of affairs there is depressing. Hunkerizing and starvation are said to be imminent.

Other reasons for the advancement of the allies' prospects are statements that Turkey is in a bad way and anxious to negotiate peace, while Hungary is said to be about to break away from Austria, Rumania on the point of joining the allies and lastly the retirement of Von Tirpitz, said to be due to the fiasco of the latest submarine campaign, owing to serious losses during the last few weeks of the newest super-submarine.

ENCOURAGING SIGNS.

I give these reasons for what they are worth, namely, they reflect the views held here by people who usually know what they are talking about. In official circles one can feel that the quiet confidence of yesterday is supplanted by the absolute certainty of today.

URGES EVERYONE TO QUICKLY GET ON WATER WAGON

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact, to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisons; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.—Advertisement.

J. P. Morgan Mum on Peace Chances, Says Firm Member

By International News Service.

New York, March 21.

THE unsettled condition of the stock market has caused rumors to be circulated in Wall Street that J. Pierpont Morgan had said peace was in sight. A member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. said:

Mr. Morgan has made no statement predicting that peace in Europe was in sight. Neither has he intimated such a thing. Mr. Morgan does not contemplate any statement. We are perfectly satisfied with the market today.

A dispatch from Galveston, Tex., stated that a prominent British ship chartering firm had cancelled arrangements for a large amount of tonnage in Galveston on the plea that "immediate peace is in sight."

VITAL WEEK OF WAR, FRENCH EXPERT SAYS

Paris, March 21.—This is called the "vitally important week of the war" by the parliamentary correspondent of Le Figaro in a review of the general situation. He expresses strong belief, however, that the allies will emerge from the struggle supreme. The article follows:

"The most vitally important week of the whole war has opened under glorious auspices. In authoritative circles yesterday the conviction prevailed that the German offensive at Verdun had been broken.

"The anguished hours that we lived through a month ago have now been succeeded by happy days of methodically organized resistance. At the same time the French people are toiling themselves these things and pointing proudly to their army.

"We see at Salonica a large army preparing for action and we also see military and diplomatic representatives of six of the allied powers about to meet to draw up a vast plan of campaign which will give us victory and seal Germany's fate.

GERMAN MARINE LOSSES ARE GREATEST

Washington, March 21.—The European War has taken from the steamers than 2,000 merchant vessels of nearly 6,000,000 tonnage, according to figures published by the Department of Commerce. Germany, with 600 vessels sunk, captured or detained, heads the lists of losers.

Two hundred and twenty-five of the 600 vessels lost were sunk by submarines. Great Britain's ships lost 167 ships. Austria lost 30 and Turkey 124.

The total of neutral losses is put at 736, but most of these were released after being reported captured. Ninety-two neutral vessels have been submarined and 34 mined. Twenty-three have been damaged by submarines and mines.

Russian Steamer Torpedoed.

OLMSTEAD IS ARRAIGNED AS SLAYER

Irving E. Olmstead of Newtonville was arraigned in the Municipal Court today, charged with the murder on March 18 of Mrs. Violet C. Moores, a manicurist.

His attorney, John W. McAnarney, asked for a continuance of one week, and upon the agreement of the prosecution this was granted by Judge Sullivan. Olmstead was remanded to the Charles Street Jail without bail.

None of Olmstead's friends or relatives were in court, his only attendant being his counsel.

Olmstead, who has a wife and two children, shot Mrs. Moores following a quarrel in her manicure establishment on Winter street. When arrested he told the police that she had "double-crossed" him. He was a salesman for the William Whitman Company.

At the time of the arrest Mrs. Olmstead declared that she would stand by her husband, and that he was goaded into the shooting by Mrs. Moores.

DEDHAM IN DEDHAM.

"I'm a good cook, that's why I never got married," Olmstead once said in the presence of Mrs. Moores at the home of a Dedham woman, it becomes known today. Olmstead, it is said, visited the Dedham house with Mrs. Moores to make arrangements for the dramatic production by the cast of the Y. M. C. A. in Maine, where he died last June.

Young Moores was brought up at the Dedham woman's home and was visited there frequently by his mother. The last time Mrs. Moores stayed on her son she was accompanied by Olmstead, who was introduced as Harry Clifford, and on leaving, young Moores told several persons that his mother was going to get married to this man, meaning Olmstead.

"I remember Olmstead well," said the Dedham woman. "He came here with Mrs. Moores last June and I was introduced to him. Mrs. Moores told his name was Harry Clifford. We were very much taken up with him. He was a glib talker and impressed us as a man who had seen much of the world. He came here with Mrs. Moores at dusk and remained quite awhile. I was surprised to hear he had a wife and family.

BELIEVED OLMSTEAD SINGLE.

"Mrs. Moores was a lovely woman. She has been more sinned against than sinning. She honestly thought Olmstead was a single man and that he intended to make her his wife. An evidence of this is that she brought him here to introduce him to her son.

"The night he came with Mrs. Moores the latter wore a gentleman's clothing. She was putting his initials on shirts. Olmstead watched her do the work. He called fluently in the interim. I remember him distinctly say, 'I'm a good cook, that's why I never got married.'

"The boy was sure that Olmstead, known to Harry Clifford, was going to be his stepfather. After Mrs. Moores gave him a sled the boy came to me one night and said, 'Ma's going to get married.'"

DECRIBES WORK OF HARVARD UNIT

Dr. David Cheever, Jr., in back in Boston after three months spent at head of the second Harvard Surgical Unit, which is at present located at Bouloigne, France.

"If left the unit before the Verdun attack and our work was rather slack at that time," says Dr. Cheever. "Since the Verdun campaign the unit probably has been working overtime.

"The work of the Harvard doctors has been appreciated highly, especially among the British. To use the phrase 'it has put Harvard on the map of Europe.'

Dr. Bremer of Harvard and Dr. Richards of Minnesota arrived with Dr. Cheever. Dr. W. E. Faulkner now is in charge of the Harvard unit.

The doctor is confident that victory will settle on their standards that they have inspired in the trenches where they keep pressed their best suits for the march home. An unique method of drying socks, too, is noted, the French soldiers hanging them over their gun barrels, states Dr. Cheever.

ROMANCE REVEALED BY $10,000 LEGACY

Meriden, Ct., March 21.—That death robbed Miss Ella Dunsmore of this city of her fiance as they were making plans for a quiet wedding was disclosed today when the will of Nelson Daggett Hosely, master mechanic of the Wilcox & White Company, was offered for probate.

To Miss Dunsmore Mr. Hosley bequeathed practically all of his estate, estimated at between $10,000 and $15,000, regardless of the fact he left to two sisters and two brothers.

Mr. Hosley was about sixty years old. He was prominent in local clubs and in the Odd Fellows. Miss Dunsmore was a social leader, a companion for Mrs. Jame H. White, wife of the president of the White Company.

HOLD MAINE GIRL AS "SLAVE" WITNESS

Syracuse, N. Y., March 21.—Miss Exsoprina Bridson, aged seventeen, of Lewiston, Me., is being held by the federal authorities here as a material witness against Wilfred Matte, accused of violating the Mann white slave act. In default of $1,000 bail the girl was taken to the county jail. The girl's parents reside at Lewiston. Matte was a bell boy there. On February 5 they eloped, going to Boston and later to Pittsburg, Mass, according to District Attorney Gregg. Matte said that they intended to get married here.

THEATRES

LOEW'S NEW ORPHEUM—Edward Abeles, the well-known star, will appear next week here in the wonderful drama written for him by George Broadhurst, entitled "Self-Defence." This was first used by Abeles at the Lambs' gambol several years ago, and proved such a sensation at that time that Abeles selected it as his best piece for presentation in vaudeville. Abeles recently signed a long contract to appear on the Marcus Loew circuit, thereby astonishing the show world.

"JUSTICE" IS CLEVERLY PLAYED

By FRED J. McISAAC.

"JUSTICE," a prison play by John Galsworthy, was presented at the Plymouth Theatre by the Corey-Williams-Ritter Company. The new firm has given this extraordinary work by the English playwright a cast that is notable in every way.

I don't think I ever saw better acting than that of O. P. Heggie, John Barrymore, Henry Stephenson, Lester Lonergan and Cathleen Nesbitt, and there was no bit so small that it didn't receive artistic attention.

There will always be argument about the purpose of drama. Personally I like to enjoy an evening at the playhouse, but there are people who set out for more illumination above entertainment.

John Galsworthy thinks the world is full of things that are wrong that nobody should be allowed to do, and he has decided that they are righted and he uses his very complete knowledge of stage technique to follow his theme until the curtain falls on the incompetent as well as he handles big problems on the outside.

TREATS WITH CRIMINALS.

"Justice" is a play which deals with our method of treating criminals. It was first produced two years ago in London and treats, of course, with English prisons, yet anybody who is familiar with our own prisons, courts and police will recognize that we do things just about as badly.

William Falder, a clerk in a solicitor's office, forges his employer's name. He is in love with a married woman whose husband abuses her, and they plan to leave London for America on the proceeds funds. Falder is a weak, well-meaning fellow, despite the rawness of his crime, but his employer feels impelled to prosecute.

The second act occurs in a court of justice. The case is all that is produced, and the entire procedure of the trial is given to the last minute detail. Although the woman tells her pitiful story, and although his attorney pleads eloquently, Falder is found guilty.

The play moves on to prison. Three scenes paint with ghastly truth the wickedness of solitary confinement and the effect of prison surroundings upon a weak and sensitive mind. Falder nearly becomes insane.

CAT IS STRUCK.

Finally he is released, after three years, to be hounded by the police until he takes his own life.

How such a powerful, dismal play is supplied by O. P. Heggie, whose whistles was so amusing earlier in the season. Heggie is a master of heartbreaking chiefs, whose kind heart is always in evidence in the midst of order and respectability. He has created some very quaint and lovable personalities.

John Barrymore, a light comedian of great talent, is revealed in this play as a brilliant actor. Falder, whose tragedy Mr. Galsworthy paints with unpleasant truth, is a man such that we have a young American leading man who can do more than wear fashionable clothes and look ornamental. His emotion in the prison scene was so realistic as to be positively harrowing.

Cathleen Nesbitt, as the woman in the case, natural, pathetic, dejected, unfortunate, made a profound impression, and every member of the cast deserves praise.

PARK THEATRE—"The Christian," which heads the program this week as a special attraction, is really the best acted production that we've played at this theatre and is certainly all it is represented to be. The production is eight acts with 75 people and 500 scenes in the cast. Edith Storey is Glory Quayle, a vivid impersonation, and Viola Allen's greatest part. She is splendid and good, and there is a great deal of credit due her. Earle Williams, who plays opposite her as John Storm, scores highly in a very brilliant work as Miss Storey. They are supported by a wonderful all-star cast. Another production on this week which is worthy of mention is "The Lost Bridegroom," in which Miss Barrymore impersonates the part of a young man who is about to be married, and on the eve of the wedding he is returning from a bachelor dinner, he is clubbed by two thugs, and left on a pier, from which he afterwards falls into the water. He afterwards wanders into a place which is the headquarters for a gang of burglars. They decided that he would be a good gentleman burglar, and send him to assist in robbing the home of the girl he was to have married. While the burglars are at work Dorothy enters the room and is attacked by one of them. They get into a fight and while thus engaged the gentleman burglar receives a blow in the head which again renders him unconscious. On recovering his memory his mind is fully restored, and he cannot recall the thing that had occurred while he is in the underworld. This is a dramatic mount production in five acts. The Metro Sydney Drew comedy, "The Count of Ten," is certainly a burst of fun which keeps the audience laughing throughout.

GLOBE THEATRE—An all-star vaudeville show pleased big audiences yesterday. Among the features of the bill were the Six Musical Cromwells Company, in a dramatic playlet entitled "Flashlight Craigin." This sketch could be decided. Others were the Broadway favorites, Weston and Leon, two girls who made an instant hit with their repertoire of new songs. Will Davis, the talkative doctor, pleased. Johnson and Crane, two colored entertainers, scored a hit. Alverez Duo presented an original novelty. The added feature was the "Iron Claw," with Pearl White. Other photo plays were also shown.

KEITH'S HAS SNAPPY SHOW

By FRED J. McISAAC.

IN case somebody should whisper in your ear that there is a very good show at Keith's this week, believe him. It's no idle rumor like the reports of Villa's whereabouts.

Bob Lorraine has arranged one of the most interesting and attractive bills that I have seen in a long time. It's one of those snappy shows where laugh follows laugh like the sputter of a machine gun. On nearly every vaudeville bill there is at least one act which makes you ill but delights the fat man on the opposite aisle. This week you are going to like every number.

I didn't know who Mildred Macomber was when I saw her name in the advertisements as headliner, but the cognomen is followed by a whole of an act, a huge tank, a heavy staircase, about a dozen union-suited models who dive and several very flossy dancers.

Miss Macomber is an eager little sprite who trips about lightly, expressing various beautiful thoughts such as "Woodland Revelry" with her feet and her whole frame, assisted Foote and the Sues Sisters very ably assist.

The tank portion of the entertainment is the most interesting. Bathing girls, who disappear, the famous Hippodrome disappearing device for underwater work being a wonder. Why some fellow who wanted to collect his own life insurance hasn't tried this.

Those to whom the history of the American stage means something were pleased to see Frederick Hallen, of the old firm of Hallen and Hart, and Molly Fuller, whose shapely calves dazzled a past generation in "Evangeline" being on hand to discuss act with a back drop, covered with ancient bills showing how much the pair were in the eighties.

Both look youthful despite the years they admit, and they sang and danced old-fashioned songs and dances with a skill that made them a hit in the thoughtless present.

George Rolland and company in a sketch called "Vacation" furnished the highest laughing average of the afternoon. There are a few gentle hints in this act that you ought to put cotton wool in your ears to hear, and Miss Rolland, a two slump and blonde young women who look like twins, have an opportunity to act that is very pleasing. Both have good voices and good vocal method and sing operatic classics.

Then there is Wilbur Mack and Nella Walker who flirt in a hotel writing room and punctuate very good dialogue with pleasing songs.

Next came Charles Howard, who proudly proclaimed that he was born in Scotland and Kenyon Bolden, of Pawtucket, and thus whom no further introduction is necessary.

Early in the bill are Howard Kissel and Herbert, singers and humorists, and Fred and Mabel Astaire, a youthful couple, who sing and dance.

MODERN THEATRE—Hall Caine's "The Bondsman," in photo-play version is one of two first-run features films shown yesterday. It is from the William Fox studio, with William Farnum in the lead, and Stephen and Jason Orry. This story that gave the famous author his most masterful hour of fame lends itself more adaptably to the screen than any other of his books that we've seen, it deals with the primitive passions of the elemental people of the North, the little love story of the entire work, charged with basic impulses that spring from hate, love and atonement, is a photo-production that is most remarkable achievement, and if one may judge of the future, a new field for art as a vehicle for revealing the superior talents of William Farnum is the point of interest. It will be one of the best opportunities that this excellent actor has had. As the hero he is a masterpiece. The author the play fittingly matches it in quality. The second feature is a Mutual picture, Constance Collier, also shown for the first time in the role of Maria Gray. It deals with the life of a bank president who, in the absence of his wife, works at the bank, for which offence he is arrested and the wife is plunged from the height of affluence to want.

ORPHEUM THEATRE—An all-star vaudeville feature show was witnessed at this popular playhouse yesterday. The headliners were Gertrude Hoffman and Bonnie Thornton, who are considered the youngest of the old timers and the oldtimers of the large audiences. Jim Thornton was never better in his monologue and a great reception they had on each performance. Others on the bill were Tody Waters, late star of "The Pink Lady," who pleased with a pianologue. Others were Cummings and Gladden in "A Visit to a Girls' School" and Weir presented a "Sword of Fear," a comedy playet which pleased immensely. The O'Neil Sisters with their songs and dances made a decided hit. Crumlee and Dunbar, in a The little Caruso Company, in a "Night in Venice," also pleased. Zeno, Jordan and Zeno, acrobatic experts, kept the house thrilled by their many daring stunts. The feature photo play was Mary Miles Minter in "Lovely Mary."

GAIETY THEATRE—At Reeves' "Beauty Show" received Monday's week's engagement yesterday to two capacity houses. Many features decidedly new in burlesque and entertainment have been provided by the popular comedian. The show is full of life, not a dull moment, is full of music, not an old tune; it is full of all those things which go to make up making people smile, laugh and roar. Mr. Reeves has an unusual aggregation of talent for a burlesque show. Maude Rockwell, one of the sweetest singers in burlesque. Eleanor Marshall, Margie Bennaret and Rene Cooper, three clever little soubrettes; Charles Robles, the well-known vaudeville artist who is also an eccentric comedian of note, and Al Green, who is really funny. The minor characters in the cast have been selected with extreme care and the result is that the show as a whole is away above the average burlesque entertainment.

MISS GABY DESLYS, who comes to Boston next week as the star in "Stop, Look and Listen."

"Alone at Last" Opens at Shubert

"ALONE AT LAST," with its brilliant score by Franz Lehar, composer of the "The Merry Widow," began a limited engagement at the Shubert Theatre.

There is a pretty story to the operetta which takes two lovers to the top of the Jungfrau. There, they are caught in a storm, they are compelled to spend the night alone, much to the horror of their friends. The guide in the case proves to be a baron and, upon proposing marriage to the young woman, all is set right.

The excellent singing cast includes Marguerite Namara, Roy Atwell, Beth Lydy, Harry Conor, Lady Yorke, Mabel Weeks, Elizabeth Goodall, Edward Mulcahy, Olga Hanson and Delmore.

Hollis and John Charles Thomas.

The price will be reviewed in detail in Wednesday's AMERICAN by Mr. Melsnar.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—Consul and Betty, the world's greatest monkeys, headed an all star vaudeville show yesterday. They have been here in years of laughter throughout. Others were Arthur Havel & Company, in a comedy playlet, Allis White, the dancing violinist, Clark and McCullough, two comedians, and Jack and Foris, two comedy acrobats, the feature photo play was Jane Grey in "A Man and His Angel." Consul and Betty will remain for the entire week. The added feature the last half of the week will be Mary Miles Minter in "Lovely Mary."

Coming Events

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—There is no question about the lively interest already manifested in the engagement of Cyril Maude in "Grumpy," which yesterday the seats for this entire engagement were placed on sale, and from the lively demand it was evident that the performances for which "Grumpy" had when it was seen here last season for its original run will be duplicated.

GRIGGS LECTURE—Friday evening, in Jordan Hall, Dr. Edward Howard Griggs gives his second lecture on the World Crisis, taking up under the heading of "The World and Social Philosophy," the practical questions which face our democracy after the war and our future among the nations of the world. On Saturday morning at 11 o'clock in Tremont Temple, he concludes his Ibsen course with the deeply symbolical "Little Eyolf" and the play of poignant tenderness, "When We Dead Awaken."

BAUMGARDT LECTURE—B. H. Baumgardt will lecture on "The Romance of Human Civilization," on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at Tremont Temple. Mr. Baumgardt will give his afternoon lecture at 4:30, and his evening lecture at 7:30, giving a brilliant review of the progress of civilization from the days of Egypt down to the marvels of modern art and invention. This lecture is an interesting one, illustrated with 150 carefully selected views, the assembling of which represents research into the world's most celebrated art collections. In addition to the evening lecture, a motion picture program of especial excellence will be offered.

TREMONT TEMPLE—Alice Nelson, whose concert at Tremont Temple on February 24 was a sensational success, has consented to give a second concert in Tremont Temple on Thursday evening, April 6. It will be an extra concert of the Tremont Temple Course. For four successive years this course has been extended because of the insistent demand of subscribers, and this season an extra concert is as much of a necessity as ever. Miss Nelson will have the assistance of Arthur Hackett, the American tenor, who is a big favorite at Tremont Temple, and Hildegarde Nash, violinist. The program will be popular in character.

"WOMAN PAYS" SHOWN AT BOSTON

THE beautiful and accomplished actress, Valli Valli, in "The Woman Pays," a superb five-act drama that is like a thrust straight to the heart of every woman, heads the bill offered at the Boston Theatre the first three days of this week.

A crowded house yesterday was held spellbound by the absorbing story unfolded in "The Woman Pays." This is a play that appeals particularly to women and girls. It is brimful of action and heart interest.

The vaudeville portion of the bill is headed by Fanny Lesgang's Under the Sea," a big spectacular singing and dancing novelty in five scenes, with a large company of people. Beatrice LeGrand, a very expert dancer, heads the company, and several novelties are introduced, one of the most charming being the "Winter Butterflies."

George Ade's comedy, "The Mayor and the Manicure," one of the fantastical playlets ever written by the foremost of American humorists, is exceptionally well played by Harry Choate & Company, and other vaudeville acts of the highest class include Deiros, the wizard of the accordion, with new selections; Orren and Drew, the whistling mimics, and the Yoshi Brothers, in a startling Oriental novelty. Four comedy pictures complete the bill.

On Thursday an entirely new program will be presented, headed by Helen Ware, the emotional actress, in the famous five-act drama, "Secret Love." Adapted from Frances Hodgson Burnett's great novel, "That Lass O' Lowries." This play by the author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" is a stirring love story of the Lancastershire colleries, and brimful of action from start to finish.

WALDRON'S CASINO—The always popular Liberty Girls is Manager Waldron's attraction for a week. They are to be seen in a specially written musical melange called "Maniken Inn," one of the most pretentious offerings ever produced on a burlesque stage. Some idea of its completeness may be gathered from the fact that it in two acts and ten scenes, each scene requiring a complete change of scenery. Another point in its favor is found in the circumstance that Jack Conway, leading comedian of the Liberty Girls, is the author of the piece. Due to his personal attention to its interpretation and staging Scenically the production is magnificent. Of the play itself it is an average burlesque. The first scene represents the hall room of the Hotel Venice. From there the audience is taken to a steamship pier where the actors embark for Egypt. In the Egyptian country the action proceeds to the palace of a mythical Sultan, and then the action is transferred to Normandy, glimpses of which beautiful country are given with scenic fidelity and richness.

Motor Notes.

By J. C. KERRISON.

E. F. Twyman, Jr., manager of the R. E. Taylor Corporation, distributors of the Garford product, spent the latter part of last week visiting the home office of the corporation in New York city. Mr. Twyman reports an exceedingly busy season, both in New York and Boston, the local branch having sold three trucks last week, and expects to be in a position to deliver more as the roads clear up.

Manager White of the Vim Motor Company of Brookline avenue announces the addition of several people to his sales force. S. L. Zink, who for several years has been in charge of the New York sales force for Vim trucks, comes here as director of sales. H. Fred Johnson, of Glascow and J. I. Stivens become members of the sales force.

Manager Twyman of the Garford motor truck business in a manner indicative of success, and it will not be his fault if Garfords do not come into their own.

Fred Bacon, distributor of the Owen Magnetic products, has increased his sales force. Wright Webb, formerly with the White, has been placed in the outside territory, and Charles Blake, formerly with Henley-Kimball, has been added to the local sales force.

HARVARD FOOD AND WATER PASS TESTS

Dr. Melville C. Whipple, sanitary inspector of Harvard University, has turned public cause for complaint, it is said. The food and water at Harvard Hall and Fencroft Halls, the freshmen dormitories, the Varsity Club and the Hillman Infirmary have passed the tests.

"UNDER COVER" AT CASTLE SQUARE

WHEN "UNDER COVER" played in Boston for a record run a short time ago the striking excellence of this thrilling melodrama aroused so much favorable comment, both among the general theatregoers and the critics, that the wish was often expressed that it might return for another engagement.

Diagnosing this wish of the general public, John Craig succeeded in getting the loan of the manuscript for his players and it opened a two weeks' run at the Castle Square Theatre last evening, with Miss Josephine Craig stars playing the leading role.

Probably not a vehicle used by these players this season has fitted the individual abilities of the actors as well as this melodrama. The leading role, Stephen Denby, is taken by William H. Nelson; Theodore Friebus makes a superb Daniel Taylor, the blackmailing customs official, while the part of Monte Vaughn, rich but faint-hearted, is well taken care of by Donald Meek. His characterization was particularly well done and aroused much hearty amusement.

Miss Craig has the leading female role, that of Ethel Cartwright, "in the clutches of the villain" Taylor, and her striking, vivid, appeal was not lost on the responsive audience. Jane Adams as Alice Harrington plays her part charmingly well, as did Al Roberts as her husband.

THE FIRST PERFORMANCE of the Santa Clara Passion Play was given at Boston College Hall last evening by the students of Boston College. This is the first time in over forty years that the college has departed from its tradition of giving Shakespearean plays and on this night the collegiate actors were most successful.

The play was written by Clay M. Greene, the noted playwright, and is considered a masterpiece. Mr. Greene was present at the performance.

The play itself compares very favorably with the Oberammergau production and there is said to excel it in dramatic possibilities.

Written for college youths, there are no female parts in the play. The figure of Christ never appears but is skillfully indicated by a bright light.

Far from detracting from the general effect, the absence of women lent a strong point of the play, removing, as it does, any danger of irreverence in disguised lovers' love interludes and failure of any human attempt to portray the character of our Lord adequately.

The part of Judas was acted in a very creditable manner by William L. Carney of Malden, who has appeared several times before in the college theatricals. The part is one that may be easily overdone, but Mr. Carney struck a happy middle course in his portrayal.

Edwin A. Daly as St. Peter and Joseph A. Scolponetti as Caiaphas made a very favorable impression on the large audience.

The cast as a whole is well chosen, the acting good, the scenery fine and the costumes faithful to the period. The play continues during the week, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

Plays That Remain

PARK SQUARE THEATRE—"Twin Beds" entered upon the second week of its return engagement last evening, and the big house, another week remaining to witness this highly diverting farce before it departs for Boston.

TREMONT TEMPLE—"The Battle Cry of Peace" began its final week yesterday afternoon to a large, appreciate and strong appeal to patriotism has proved anew its tremendous power to move the hearts of the welfare of their country at heart.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—The life of the title role in New York city's fortune-hunting foreigners, bridge whist and kindred frivolities of society, is the theme of "Flying Colors," the four-act comedy drama in which William Hodge is now starring.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—A few more performances and "Daddy Long Legs" will be but a delightful memory to Boston playgoers instead of a laughing reality. Next Saturday evening, after a stay of nine weeks in this city, Henry Miller, Ruth Chatterton and the most charming comedy of the season will terminate the engagement.

COLONIAL THEATRE—"Around the Map" started upon its fourth and last week last evening, and just as was the case ever since this gorgeous spectacle first came to town, the theatre was packed to the doors.

WILBUR THEATRE—The theatregoing public has waked to the thoroughly amusing and yet logical fun of "Seven's Choice," and capacity houses laugh at old man Hobson's domineering tactics.

BOSTON YOUTH OF 15 SHOOTS TWO MEN

A Boston youth, George Peckham, fifteen, of No. 13 Isabella street, attempted to duplicate the feats of Jesse James, the famous bandit, when he entered the trading stamp shop at No. 446 Tremont street, pointed a revolver at Albert W. Bullard, sixty, of No. 24 Howe street, Somerville, the proprietor, and fired three shots at him, two of which took effect.

As he fled from the office he encountered Lyman W. Rumney, forty-eight, janitor of the building. Rumney stopped the boy, who placed the revolver in the pit of the janitor's stomach and fired. This shot was deflected by a bunch of keys in Rumney's vest and he was only slightly injured.

Both Bullard and Rumney were taken to the City Hospital. Mr. Bullard had been hit twice, one bullet striking the second finger of his right hand and the other entering his groin on the right side. His condition, it is said, is not serious.

"Such a little boy he was. I thought he was only fooling" explained Bullard to the police. "I grinned at him and he grinned at me with laughter. Then the little revolver commenced to spit fire at me."

Peckham was arraigned before Judge Cabot in the Juvenile Court today. His case was continued for ten days.

The legislative Committee on Legal Affairs, in executive session today, voted to report favorably the bill providing that licensees may appeal from the decisions of licensing boards to the Superior Court. The bill provides that when the licensing board of any city or the selectmen of any town revoke or suspend a license the appeal may be taken if the property exceeds $5,000 in value. The act provides that the appeal shall be entered before three justices of the court.

BOSTON URGES FLIRTING TO WAKE UP HUSBANDS

By CONSTANCE WILLIAMS.

"Flirting by a wife should not be considered out of the way when it becomes a good antidote for a dull, drowsy husband," declared Mrs. E. E. Stevens, lecturer on social subjects, when asked about Pastor Harvey J. Moore of Somerville, who was reported to have said in his Sunday sermon, "Flirt a little now and then with some other man and your husband will love you more."

Mrs. Stevens believes anything within certain limits is justifiable if it awakens a husband to the importance of his wife.

"Many a wife is neglected by her husband because she does not arouse him. Other men admire the ways of a wife, her manner of conversation, her methods and even her beauty, when her own husband is like a wet dish rag, too limp to notice anything in his wife.

"Now the only way to arouse such dull husbands, is for their wives to allow other men to show them some attention in public, and when a husband sees how well a wife appears in the company of others, he may arouse from his sleep and see what a prize he has.

"Call this flirting, if you please, it does the trick. In this respect, I think it is best to deal with laughter in public to accept the attentions of some gentleman who admires her good points when her husband near by takes more pleasure in smoking.

HE CLAIMS PLANT JUICE WONDERFUL

Boston Man Gives an Unqualified Endorsement for New Stomach Remedy.

In an interview, the other day, The Plant Juice Man, who has his headquarters at the drug department of Paine-Smith-Ritter Co., Cutter Co.'s store, where he is introducing the new kind stomach remedy, Plant Juice, said:

"If you would only read the next 99 per cent. of the ills that human flesh is heir to are directly traceable to the stomach, and when the digestive organs are not performing their work that Nature has assigned to them, poisons are thrown into the bloodstream essential to the recovery of other diseased parts, will be lacking, and there will be no permanent relief. It naturally follows that when starved from a lack of vital activity in the secretory glands of the stomach, from a want of sufficient gastric juice, hence a remedy that will arouse these parts, stimulate them to action and infuse them with vitality, will remove the cause, and the dreadful symptoms which denote stomach trouble, liver trouble will vanish."

Plant Juice stimulates the secretory glands, attacks and destroys self-poisons in the blood, corrects diseased conditions of the stomach, liver and kidneys, and restores them to normal condition.

This is verified daily by scores of local people in signed statements. Recently the testimonials of Thomas F. Hennessey, who lives at No. 48 Myrtle street, and is a well-known newspaper man, has many friends in this city, being published in the Boston American. He stated:

"For years my I had lead poisoning and was laid up with it for three weeks. I was told at that time my stomach has been in a very weak condition. I had a question so bad that I could scarcely keep anything on my stomach, and my food passed through me as it came to form and I was all bloated. I was so nervous that I could not sleep, had pain all through my body, headaches, dizzy spells. My appetite was coated and my liver was torpid. I tried everything to no good, and tired of without any benefit, and, as a last resort, decided to try Plant Juice. It certainly proved to be just what I needed, for it has toned my entire system up. I eat and sleep well and feel like a new man, for I was cured me."

The Plant Juice Man is at the Drug department of Paine-Smith-Ritter & Dutton Drug Co.'s store, where he is introducing the new stomach remedy and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.—Advertisement.

DRESS WARM AND KEEP FEET DRY

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts and Get Rid of Uric Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions, it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid an undue exposure, and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine, but the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

MILLIONS LOST IN TOBACCO FRAUD BY U.S.

By International News Service.

Washington, March 21.—Nationwide tobacco frauds, by which the government has been swindled out of untold millions of dollars in revenue, have been uncovered by agents of the treasury department, it was announced today. Officials declared that the system by which these gigantic frauds were perpetrated, when fully exposed, will be the most pretentious in the history of the country.

Federal officials estimated today that the government had lost more than $500,000 in New York alone through the operations of a ring of manufacturers of cigars and cigarettes who have sold their products without paying the internal revenue tax.

It is believed that the ring had its headquarters there, but its operations extended to many sections of the country. The round-up of dealers accused of taking part in the work of fraud began late yesterday and was still in progress today.

CHARGE FRAUD IN NAME OF G. A. R.

Lloyd B. Hayes, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has presented to the District Attorney evidence showing how three professional solicitors induced Massachusetts business men to pay hundreds of dollars by misuse of the G. A. R. emblem, and likewise led an elderly widow of a veteran to invest her savings in a venture from which she received what she cannot recover them.

The Lynn police are working on the case, as the woman lives in Lynn. The woman was to furnish a sixteen-page annual booklet for the Ladies of the G. A. R. annual convention. Unable to solicit advertising herself, she engaged professional solicitors.

It is claimed they persuaded her to hide the fact that she represented the Ladies of the G. A. R., and the receipts they gave for money they collected bear the G. A. R. emblem and the words "Annual Encampment, the Department of Massachusetts and Grand Army of the Republic."

Descendant of Bunker Hill Hero Aids Boys' Club

Twenty-five cents contributed to the Bunker Hill Boys' Club by ten-year-old Helen Botsford—the first gift—has already grown to $25,000.

This little girl, who lives in Hyde Park, wrote to the campaign committee that she was sending her contribution for her two-year-old brother, whose ancestors fought at the Battle of Bunker Hill. Miss Helen was sure that her brother when he grew up would be glad to know that he had the honor of assisting the Bunker Hill boys of today with a donation to start the campaign which had for its object a new clubhouse.

The second luncheon of the teams and committees engaged in raising $125,000 for the clubhouse was held this noon at Ford Hall.

The committee has sent out a warning to citizens to give their donations only to those having cards of certification, signed by officials of the committee. It has been reported to the committee that a young woman without authority is soliciting funds.

JEWS' PROTEST ON HYMNS MAY GO TO COURT

The Supreme Court of Massachusetts may be asked to decide the constitutionality of the present Boston school system of teaching children hymns, according to statements made by prominent Jews today.

Unless the School Committee removes from public school song books all hymns referring to Christ and the Christian religion, the matter will be taken to the higher tribunal, according to Attorney Philip J. Sonabelm, representing Jewish remonstrants.

Led by Nathan Ullian, Jewish citizens, through Attorney Sonabelm, petitioned the School Committee to remove from the song books such old-time hymns as "The First Noel," "Silent Night" and "The Good King Wenceslas."

Among those who appeared in favor of the petition were Rabbi Phineas Israeli, Dr. Charles Fleischer and Jacob Wiseman of the Y. M. H. A. The remonstrants included the Rev. Alfred E. Isaac of the Dorchester Temple Baptist Church, Rev. J. M. Foster, pastor of the Second Harvard Street Presbyterian Church in the West End; the Rev. J. W. Brigham, Ph. D., and the Rev. W. D Brigham.

JEWISH CHILDREN.

Lawyer Sondheim pointed out that the Jew had no belief in the Immaculate Conception, and that Gentiles had no faith he had at all times been made the human football. He characterized the Jew as being like unto Christ. He said that he always bobs up praying and true to his religion.

He asked the members of the School Board if they desired him to file a brief containing a statement of the arguments, and advised that the committee should take no action until it had referred the matter to Corporation Counsel John A. Sullivan. He intimated that in case of a decision against the petition it was probable the Supreme Court would be asked for a writ of mandamus directing the School Committee to rule the songs out.

Mr. Sondheim mentioned that there are 8,000 Jewish children in the public schools and that he did not desire to have the seed of Christianity spread among them. He was asked to read over part of one of the songs which mentioned Christ as the King of Israel. He said that the Jew was taught that David was King of Israel.

Dr. Charles Fleischer expressed sympathy for the school committee, stating that he had always counseled the Jews to be patient. He said that the dominant majority should be humored in conscience. He said that no one but a Jew realized the tragedy of introducing Christian hymns into the home of the Christian Jew. He spoke of himself as a free lance, who was hardly recognized by the Jews as a Jew.

Rabbi Phineas Israeli of the Temple Adath Jeshurun, Roxbury, spoke strongly in favor of the petition, as did Jacob Wiseman, president of the Y. M. H. A.

The Rev. Alfred E. Isaac of the Dorchester Temple Baptist Church, on behalf of the Baptist Ministers' Conference, briefly mentioned the hardships of the early Baptists because they did not accept the religion of the Commonwealth, which was Congregationalism. He felt that the Jews were taking up a matter which was of little importance, and the schools were, making no effort to teach religion.

He said that they might also object to the singing of "America's," because it mentions the Pilgrim. He felt that if a beginning were made, it would be found necessary to expurgate all hooks in the schools. He held it to be utterly absurd and that a great principle was involved.

Rev. J. M. Foster, pastor of the Second Reformed Presbyterian Church, in the West End, said that in this country Christianity is the common law. He said that Jews had attempted to turn from it only to fall into a Reign of Terror.

UNDER ADVISEMENT.

The Rev. J. W. Brigham, Ph. D., Baptist, said that he spoke as a brother to the Jew as well as to all others, and that it could not be denied that the Prince of Peace somehow has had a great influence upon all lives. He asked the Jew to be scientific, and to accept the proposition as a historical fact that Christ did come and make us brothers.

The School Committee took the matter under advisement.

HUSBAND'S "JOKE" LANDS HIM IN CELL

James Gallagher of Harfwick street, East Cambridge, was locked up in the Cambridge police early today, charged with drunkenness. Gallagher is said to have attempted to call up a number in the Back Bay where his wife, from whom he has been estranged for some time, is living, to tell her that Robert, their five-year-old son, was dying at the result of an automobile accident. Gallagher then, it is said, asked the operator to have a policeman sent to notify Mrs. Gallagher. The operator notified police headquarters. While a patrolman kept up conversation with Gallagher an automobile patrol appeared to the gray stables and Gallagher was arrested. He is held under $100 bail until only trying to play a joke on his wife.

M'CALL IN FAVOR OF DRUG EVIL CRUSADE

Governor McCall said today that he was in "hearty sympathy" with any legislation that will suppress the use of drugs.

Governor McCall now has before him for his signature a bill which provides that a search warrant must be issued by any judge or justice of the peace on complaint that any building is suspected of containing drugs. Hospitalls, drug stores and similar places where drugs are legally used are exempted.

"The visitorial power may be dangerous," he said. "It might be unwise to allow the invasion of a private home where a drug has been prescribed by a physician."

"It is right to assume that you are in sympathy with the suppression of the use of drugs?" the Governor was asked.

"I am in hearty sympathy with any legislation that will suppress the use of drugs," Governor McCall replied. "We are using altogether too many drugs."

The bill before the Governor was passed by the Legislature on the petition of the Watch and Ward Society.

Governor McCall favors the purpose of the bill and he may sign it, he said, but he wants to satisfy himself that the visitorial power is not too dangerous.

BAY STATE PASTORS ENDORSE AMERICAN'S LIQUOR CRUSADE

Educators, authors, clergymen of every denomination and men and women prominent in all walks of life heartily indorse the crusade which the Boston AMERICAN, in conjunction with Mr. Hearst's newspapers in the country, has started against the drug and liquor evils.

Congratulatory letters are pouring into the AMERICAN office. They praise Mr. Hearst for his public spirit and courage in refusing to accept liquor advertisements for publication in his newspapers and for the vigorous campaign being conducted throughout the country against the liquor traffic and habit-forming drugs.

Many of the letters agree that such a stand by a newspaper publisher is the most formidable agency possible in behalf of temperance.

The Rev. James T. Carlyon, associate pastor of the Centre Methodist Church, Malden, says:

PRAISES NEW POLICY.

"I know of no more far-reaching event in the cause of temperance during the past year than this decision of Mr. Hearst. It is distinctly a step in the right direction."

Professor William Fairfield Warren, Department of Religious and Religion, Boston University School of Theology, writes:

"In its day the AMERICAN has published innumerable items of good news, but I recall none more honorable to its management, or more serviceable to the public than the recent announcement of its new policy as to the advertising of alcoholic beverages."

Other letters are equally laudatory and all sound a chorus that rings with optimism and promise.

Professor Warren's letter in full follows:

Editor of Boston AMERICAN:

In its day the AMERICAN has published innumerable items of good news, but I recall none more honorable to its management, or more serviceable to the public than the recent announcement of its new policy as to the advertising of alcoholic beverages.

As to further methods of combatting drink and drug evils, one promised line for journalism to pursue would doubtless be to show less indulgence than has been common in the daily press to the drinking habits of students, artists, "Bohemian" clubs, etc. Even abstinence from cheap slurs on the "grape juice" principles of men like Mr. Bryan will help. I venture these suggestions solely because of your solicitation.

With every good wish, I am,

Yours very truly,

WILLIAM F. WARREN.

Professor Boston University School of Theology.

STEP IN RIGHT DIRECTION.

Pastor Carlyon's letter reads:

Editor Boston AMERICAN:

Permit me to express delight at the step which your paper has taken in regard to the advertisements of ardent liquors and habit-forming drugs. It is distinctly a step in the right direction. I believe most emphatically that our newspapers, both through editorial columns and by means of the advertisements, are among the first three forces in making character in America. You share with the church and the school the function of genuine education.

We are compelled to prepare the way for legislation. We cannot wait for the legal machinery to be ready for the great campaign for prohibition and good living. Both by editorial initiative and by publishing the news of progress in prohibition you are greatly aiding the movement which has been inaugurated in your advertising department.

I know of no more far-reaching event in the cause of temperance during the past year than this decision of Mr. Hearst. I shall gladly support the new effort. Yours very truly.

J. T. CARLYON.

ENDORSES MOVEMENT.

Editor of Boston AMERICAN:

Your communication giving information regarding Mr. Hearst's recent instruction to his editors was of special interest to me. I have long felt that our Boston papers were doing themselves and the public a great injustice by the insertion of so many liquor ads.

I have many times felt to make a protest but have always had the feeling that of course it would amount to nothing. I am now delighted to hear that Mr. Hearst has decided to bar this type of advertising in his publications.

I believe that it is a step in the right direction, and that you will be widely commended for this movement. It certainly has my heartiest endorsement.

Yours with all good wishes,

F. L. PIPER.

Editor The World's Crisis.

COMMENDS ATTITUDE.

Editor Boston AMERICAN:

Your communication relative to Mr. Hearst's position with regard to the publication of liquor advertisements in his papers was duly received. I was glad to get it and to learn that Mr. Hearst has taken such a noble and commendable attitude relative to this matter.

I certainly believe it to be the duty of a newspaper to take the position of actual as guardian of the public health. I regard it as the duty of any newspaper or of any person to do that, if there comes to either a sense of responsibility along any such line.

I am glad that there has come to Mr. Hearst a sense of responsibility in this matter, and that he is disposed to discharge it at the cost of such criticism and large financial losses. His position has my most hearty indorsement.

Very sincerely yours,

A. JUDSON HUGHES.

First Baptist Church, Everett.

WORTHY OF PRAISE.

Editor, Boston AMERICAN:

In acknowledging the receipt of your communication, I am most happy to express my opinion, which you have permission to make any use of you may wish, if you should care to do so.

First, the very important step which Mr. Hearst has taken in barring all liquor ads, and all ads for nostrums containing alcohol or habit producing drugs, is worthy of the highest commendation.

I shall state so publicly in my pulpit, for here is a straight and downright departure from the bitter path of subservience the many of the newspapers have followed, for the sake of the financial return involved.

It is a brave and statesmanlike thing, and may you have many followers who will see the light as Mr. Hearst has done.

Second; if Mr. Hearst will really carry out his plan for a campaign for the suppression of habit-forming drugs, it is distinctly a step in the right direction. I believe most emphatically that our newspapers, both through editorial columns and by means of the advertisements, are among the first three forces in making character in America. You share with the church and the school the function of genuine education.

We are compelled to prepare the way for legislation. We cannot wait for the legal machinery to be ready for the great campaign for prohibition and good living. Both by editorial initiative and by publishing the news of progress in prohibition you are greatly aiding the movement which has been inaugurated in your advertising department.

I know of no more far-reaching event in the cause of temperance during the past year than this decision of Mr. Hearst. I shall gladly support the new effort. Yours very truly.

She will be hostess for the Sewing Circle tomorrow at the Batchelder residence in Brookline.

Lime-Loss in Tuberculosis

"It has been many times stated that in tuberculosis or in the pre-tuberculosis stage an increased amount of calcium (lime) is lost both in the urine and feces. In fact, a demineralizing action has been thought to be a forerunner of the development of tuberculosis."

If tuberculosis is due to lime loss, the success of Eckman's Alterative in its treatments may be due to the fact that its content of a lime salt so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated.

Always we have urged consumptives to attend strictly to matters of food, but often some effective remedial agent is needed. In many cases of apparent recovery Eckman's Alterative seems to have supplied this need. It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so is safe to try. Sold by all Riker Drug Stores and leading druggists.

WIFE PAID $30 FOR HAT, MELLO TESTIFIES

The divorce libel of Mrs. Flora Mello of East Boston, who charges her husband, John P., with non-support, was resumed before Judge O'Connell in the Superior Court today.

Mrs. Mello says her husband lost the greater part of a $10,000 estate which she claimed she had at the time of her marriage in 1908. The case was labeled on the trial list as "not to be contested," and Mello was not represented by counsel.

Mello, however, was in court, and when he heard his wife's charges he shook his head vigorously. Judge O'Connell told him he would give him an opportunity later to state what he desired.

When Mello took the witness stand he declared that he only spent $525 out of his wife's estate, and that she lost the rest in investments, or spent it. He said that she purchased costly coats and suits and paid $30 for a hat. He added that she paid $85 for a fur coat and $50 for a suit.

"I paid my wife $12 a week for the support of herself and our boy," said Mello. "I later paid her $5 a week for her board, but paid the other expenses of my wife and boy.

"My wife wished to live with her cousin, but I refused to do so. She claimed that she could support herself. It was then agreed that I would pay $5 a week for the support of our boy. When we parted I kissed my wife and told her that she could come back and live with me any time she desired. I am employed as a nurse and am still willing to live with my wife.

"After our separation I did not immediately pay the $5 a week for the support of my son, as my wife failed to pay some obligations as she agreed. I was arrested for non-support three weeks after I separated from my wife. I made efforts to see my son, but was unable to do so for three months, as my wife refused to inform me of his whereabouts."

CONSIDER FIVE DIFFERENT MILK BILLS

Five milk bills were heard by the Legislative Joint Committee on Agriculture and Public Service today. A number of women were present at the hearing, which was continued for one week.

The petition of Representative Thomas J. Giblin for prevention of the treatment of milk with formaldehyde, was dismissed on the ground that the point was fully covered by the present law.

F. N. Harwood, general agent of the dairy bureau; George E. Boling, of the Brockton Board of Health, and Secretary Wilfrid Wheeler of the State Board of Agriculture supported the petition of Gustaf L. Berg, a Worcester milk inspector, for amendment of the law for a permit from a health authorities for sale and delivery of milk, so that inspection of place and circumstances of milk production should be "whenever deemed necessary."

Herman C. Lythgoe of the State Department of Health, opposed the bill of Daniel W. Casey that a retailer of milk shall not be responsible for the quality of milk sold by him, provided it is sold in sealed receptables received from the producer or wholesaler, plainly marked.

A Senate bill, the same as that offered by Gustaf L. Berg, previously mentioned, was opposed by Dr. Thomas E. Maloney of the Fall River Board of Health on the ground that it would prevent enforcement of the present law.

Representative Arthur W. Colburn of Dracut supported a bill providing for plain marks on milk containers showing their capacity.

COMMITTEE SPLIT ON LOAN SHARK BILL

With three members dissenting, the legislative Committee on Legal Affairs today reported against the bill to provide that no assignment of wages shall be valid unless the consent of the wife is obtained. This is the first action by the committee on any of the "loan shark" bills. The dissenters are Representatives Foley, Murray and McCarthy.

Connor Held in $10,000 Charged With Shooting 2

James Connor, plumber and janitor, of St. Botolph street, was arraigned in the Municipal Court today, charged with assault with a loaded revolver with intent to kill Mrs. Alice A. Connor, his wife, and Mrs. Janice Beverly.

Connor, who was not represented by counsel, waived a hearing and was held in $10,000 for the Grand Jury.

On leaving the court room the prisoner met his mother, Mrs. Bridget Connor of Roxbury. Special Officer Harvey, to whom the prisoner was handcuffed, halted, and mother and son embraced.

There is no change in the condition of the two women shot by Connor in the St. Botolph street apartment house. Both are on the dangerous list. Connor claims he has no recollection of the shooting, and blames it on liquor.

Did you see our salesman in your city prove by actual burning test the purity of SWEET CAPORAL Cigarettes?

"Good morning, Mr. Mason; I see you've got a new sign in your window."

"Oh! yes. The SOCONY Sign. Yes, that's been up ever since the first of the week. What do you think of it?"

"I think it's fine. I'd a whole lot rather buy kerosene with a name and a pedigree than just any old oil the dealer happens to have in his tank. SOCONY, you call it?"

"That's right. So-CO-ny. It's the Standard Oil Company of New York's best grade of refined oil. We've always carried it because we wanted our customers to have the best. Now it's got a name—SOCONY—and nobody's gladder than I am. Maybe now, people will begin to realize that all kerosene is not alike."

"There's a difference, is there?"

"I should say so. Just as there's a difference in eggs and a difference in butter. SOCONY Kerosene Oil is clean, clear-burning, absolutely reliable. Every gallon is exactly the same as every other gallon."

CROWDED CAR HITS HACK AND COAL TRUCK

A Washington street, Dorchester-Dudley street electric car, containing forty-seven passengers, today struck and overturned a two-horse hack, and then lifted a heavy coal wagon into the air on Warren street, near Walnut avenue, Roxbury.

Alexander O'Brien, driver of the hack, and Miss Christine Everetts, who was inside, both employes of the City Hospital, were bruised and shaken up and were sent to the hospital.

According to the Elevated version of the accidents, O'Brien was driving the hack inward on the outbound tracks, to swing his horses across to the other tracks just as the electric came along. The car struck O'Brien's horses, throwing them and overturning the hack.

In the meantime, a two-horse coal team, owned by E. J. Babcock and driven by Charles E. Sullivan of East Lenox street, was proceeding outward on the inbound tracks. According to the Elevated, Sullivan swung his horses across to the other track, and one of the animals was struck on the head by an outbound car of which H. E. Taylor was the motorman.

The frightened horses swerved back into the other tracks, and the Dorchester-Dudley street, which Motorman Joseph F. Richards was just bringing to a stop after striking the hack, crashed into the outfit.

The heavy coal wagon was overturned and the surface of Warren street in the immediate vicinity paved with coal. Sullivan was unhurt.

Passengers in the cars picked up O'Brien, driver of the City Hospital hack, and assisted Miss Everetts to the street. She said she was unhurt, but Superintendent Webber of Division 1, who arrived within a short time, sent her to the hospital in an Elevated automobile. O'Brien, who was cut and bruised, was taken to the hospital in a police ambulance.

Traffic was delayed for about sixteen minutes, the vestibule of the Dorchester car was smashed, and the hack and coal wagon were somewhat damaged.

KEITH WITNESS IN RICHARDS' B. A. A. SUIT

Plymouth, March 21.—A. Paul Keith, president of the Boston Athletic Association, and a son of the late B. F. Keith, vaudeville magnate, was the first witness today in the trial of the suit of Dr. Russell A. Richards for $20,000 for alleged expulsion from the association.

President Keith testified that the governing board of the association was not opposed to Dr. Richards and did not wish to expel him.

He denied that Attorney Goodwin had any hand in "framing" records of the meeting on May 13, when the doctor's resignation was asked. Mr. Keith said the governing board was "merely acting under the advice of Attorney Goodwin," and that Dr. Richards could have had counsel to act outside the meeting the same as the board did.

"When the answer to Dr. Richards was sent denying him counsel, you weren't consulted, were you" questioned Attorney Feeley.

"I knew of it," the witness replied.

"You will agree that it was not considered by the full committee?"

"I should judge not, as there is no record of a meeting at that time."

"You knew that at the meeting of May 13 when Dr. Richards' resignation was asked, it was with the assumption that he be expelled?"

"Absolutely not," was the reply.

"NOTHING TO OFFER."

Under cross-examination Mr. Keith was asked for his reasons for joining in the request for Dr. Richards' resignation, and replied:

"Dr. Richards charged direct misappropriation. Had he come into the meeting and said, 'I have been misguided and misinformed,' it would have made a great difference with me. I went to the meeting determined to hear him, but he had nothing to offer."

Frederick W. Smith of Boston, contracting engineer and former president and member of the governing board of the B. A. A., was the next witness. Attorney Feeley asked him what were the rumors about Dr. Richards at the club. He replied:

"First, I heard he had been expelled from the Elks; second, that he was allowed to take only one degree in the Masons, and, third, of his affair in Greenfield."

Smith testified he lived in Greenfield in 1883 and 1886, and indignantly denied that he started the rumor, saying:

"If anybody says so, he is telling something that is not true."

Asked if he placed any credence in the rumor, Smith replied: "It is barely possible I might have."

Q—Did you say, "Where there was some smoke there must be a little fire?" A—Yes, I did.

Q—Don't you think such nasty rumors would have a tendency to prejudice you against the doctor? A.—Yes, I do.

Q—And yet you didn't take the pains to ascertain if they were true? A—No.

"DIDN'T BACK CHARGES."

Under cross-examination it was brought out that Mr. Smith was a charter member of the B. A. A. and was a member of the Harvard rowing crew of 1875, 1876 and 1877. Asked why he voted to request the resignation of Dr. Richards, he said:

"I heard Dr. Richards make a general charge which he later reduced to a specific charge in a sworn letter. Then he went so far as to deny he had made the charges and he utterly failed to bring any evidence to substantiate his charges against the committee and Mr. Keats. So I voted to ask for his resignation."

200-Lb. Halibut on a Flounder Hook Brings $50

A 200-pound halibut, caught on a flounder hook and line last Sunday by Antonio Cabral, made that lucky fisherman today the hero of Fish Wharf, where he sold his prize for a $50 bill—twenty-five cents a pound.

Antonio was fishing off Chatham from the trawler schooner Progress.

"I suddenly felt a great big resistance," he explained, "and drew in the flounder line carefully until I was astonished to see coming to the surface a monster fish. I had to play him just like a fisherman plays a tarpon—but with a five-ounce rod, and finally when the big fish was near enough I managed to hook the fluke of my dory anchor under his gill and pull him in."

RAILROADS ASK MAIL RATE CHANGE

Washington, March 21.—The executives of a number of the larger railway systems of the country today appealed to the Senate Postoffice Committee to amend the postoffice appropriation bill so that the fixing of rates for carrying the mails would be turned over to the Interstate Commerce Committee. A petition signed by sixty-four railroad presidents was filed endorsing the plan to increase the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Boer Veteran Plans Regiment of Jews for U.S.

John Dunker of No. 16 State road, Beachmont, a veteran of the Boer war, is anxious to raise a regiment of Jews who have seen active military service to work in any part of the world for Uncle Sam.

"Membership in the regiment is restricted to Jews under forty," says Dunker, who says he is in the possession of 145 parchments containing words of praise for his work in behalf of home rule for Ireland. "I only want those who are seasoned veterans.

"My idea in endeavoring to raise a regiment of Jews is to put the latter in a new light before the world. I'll guarantee to get them into action. Uncle Sam wants them."

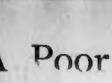
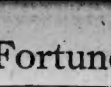
A Poor Man Never Knows How Many Friends He Has Until He Inherits a Fortune



BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS



Bill Works New Lineup

Lewis Shines in Centre

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 21.—It has been a relief to see a bunch of ball players in the act of working out. By that I mean the whole works, from the pitcher to the outfielder, each man in his proper position and all eager to get started as soon as possible on the road to condition which will mean a good start in the race for the American League pennant.

The boys from the four winds came into their own in the form of perfect weather and their first two days have been productive of the best re. lts.

Naturally, the men who have been hiking it over the hills are in better shape than those who have just arrived, but the way the regulars are taking their work it will not be many days before the whole squad is on an even keel.

LEWIS IN TRIS' GARDEN.

Hooper is a pleasure to watch in right field and Lewis in centre is giving the fans a fine exhibition of ground covering. Manager Carrigan has hit them out to Duffy; first one side, then the other, and over his head and the Alameda kid has been there with all the class any one could wish for.

Lewis is a bit soft, as is Hooper. But the old sap is running for the good and the boys make a 5-mile dash from the park to the car, where they find it hot, and it acts almost like a boy room in their way back to the hotel.

They got out a short distance even the heat and run in the lovely clip. This gives them just the right kind of a warmup, so they get to their work in a perspiration. This sort of work for the next two weeks should put every man in the best of condition.

So far the weather man has been most generous, evidently trying to give the World's Champions an even break on part sessions when it has not been so warm and pleasant as now.

IT'S A VERY BUSY SQUAD.

Manager Carrigan has the right idea also in the manner in which he is handling his men, now that he has them together. Everybody is busy all the time doing something, and this keeps up the interest.

Bresnahan the catchers up behind the bat has given the pitchers just what they needed and the latter boys are looking them over for the first time this year have had something to look at.

Henriksen was sent out to left field for a tryout and he made in at this position when he played in the minors; in fact, he was on the Boston about every position on the Boston club and has been good at it. Hendricken has not fully recovered from the lameness in his shoulder, due to his crashing into the centrefield fence last Friday, but it has not interfered with his legs, and he covers a lot of ground and knows where he is going all the time.

Shorten was also tried in the position. He is a classy young workman.

BOBBY HARD AT IT.

As Gainer has not shown up, all the work around first base has been done by Hoblitzel, who, now that he is getting something like good practice to handle, looks like the goods. The infield practice is varied. Hill uses the batters to start with.

Barry is pretty close to weight now. Scott has not handled a ball in Winter, so his arm is being favored, but occasionally he cuts one over to us in a short throw.

In this respect Janvrin has an advantage of about seven years. "Jannie" is showing true form, both in the field and at bat. His arm is better than it ever was, in my opinion, and his throws are true to the mark and light.

Gardner is getting plenty of work and will be in shape when the team leaves here.

Larry does not require much to take what he has off and the limbering up process will be gradual with him. He is an old campaigner and the wise to take any chance with his arm until the time comes for him to do the real work.

McNally is a very clever boy around that corner also, and if he could hit would give anyone a battle for a place on any team.

PITCHERS IN GREAT SHAPE.

The pitchers are in most remarkable shape and the quality of the situation is that they are all hitters. The pitcher who takes a chance with them is getting himself in bad right from the start.

Foster is showing the stuff and Mays is there with the curve and revise ball is a marvel. He has had the best hitters on the team missing their heads off trying to connect.

Ruth is getting into the game, now that he has taken some of that weight off, and is not counting the hits unless they crash up against the fences. Shore has had about everything for some days, and when he is in the box, the batting is light.

McHale is coming along nicely, although just at present he says his arm does not feel very strong. His stuff is there, however. Both Bader and Anderson are showing up well, and it looks like a hard job for a manager to decide which, if either, should be sent to the minors.

Agnew is a bear with a stick and has plenty of life in his work, keeping the ball down all the time. Jim Thomas is a steady catcher and is showing great interest in the game.

CADY HUSTLING FINELY.

Cady is down to weight and giving all his energy to the practice; in fact, the keynote of the whole camp is that every man eager to get into the game and thus make it sure that when Carrigan leaves here the men who have the goods are in condition and full of the fighting spirit to carry them through.

Of course, there is more or less talk about the absence of Speaker. No team could have a star drop out and not feel it to the utmost. Still, the boys are in a frame of mind which is admirably characteristic of them as individuals.

They figure that if Speaker has made up his mind not to sign for what the club has offered him, they will get along as best they can. They are pulling for each other in that left field corner, feeling confident Duffy Lewis will be able to take care of the centre garden. Many of the boys have written Speaker, giving their views in the matter.

The squad went out at 10 this morning, and after the workout, there was a practice game with the regulars lined up against the second team.

GLOVER BACK IN TRIM.

In Glover, Eagan meets the cleverest glovesman he has met in the world. When Mike is right, and the manager, George Freeman, declares he is, trained to the proverbial minute for tonight's melee, he is even faster and a cleaner scorer than Ted Lewis, and Lewis is rapid and, even though Jack Britton, who has just got through handing Lewis two black marks.

Glover has only gone to the post three times since registering his smart victory over Lewis. At Gloucester he made a show of Joe Chick; at the Hip he treated "Soldier" Bartfield to a boxing lesson and out in Milwaukee stopped "Billy" Kramer, the Middle West's new pride among the welters.

Glover has been on the sicklist for the past six weeks. But he's been roughing it up over on a Connecticut farm; is now at his best, he and his handlers aver, and after his encounter with Eagan, plans returning to Milwaukee for a return-match contest with Willie Ritchie and then right into New York for a Madison Square Garden show with Lewis and Britton.

EAGAN NOW AT HIS BEST.

As for Eagan, who has worked a in Walter Hutler, the Revere Rocket, all Winter, seldom showing on the average of at least twice a week, and never gaining less than a 50-50 split with any foe, he has been put in O. K. trim by his shrewd handler, Eddie Mack, and, if confidence counts for anything, South Boston is going to have a new flatic pride by 11 p. m. In fact, the welterweight division will have a new ruler.

Glover looms up as the real class of the show. Just the same, Eagan is not lacking in supporters, and many hops he and his henchmen, especially Col. Mack, know what they are talking about and the long shot is going bouncing over the plate. However, it seems extremely hard to get away from the rightful favorite, Glover.

Miah Murray's prellms smack of being all to the merry. "Billy" Nixon, now identified with the Harvard boxing game, goes on with Johnny Noonan, the hard-hitting Dorchester boy, in the semi-final. This bout should be a corker. The six-rounders will be offered by Tommy O'Brien and Eli Valley and Tommy Stanton and Frankie Simons. The efficient Phil Powers, nee Young Donahue, will referee all four bouts.

WELTER CRACKS CLASH

Mike Glover and Joe Eagan, Native Sons and Nifty Glovemen, Top Spicy Bill at Hip.

ARMORY A. A. PROGRAM.

Johnny Noonan, Dorchester, vs. "Billy" Nixon, Cambridge, 8 rounds.
Frankie Simons, Natick, vs. Tommy Stanton, East Boston, 6 rounds.
Tommy O'Brien, South Boston, vs. Eli Valley, 6 rounds.
Referee—Phil Powers.
Starting time—8 p. m.
Club's location—Hippodrome.

BY rights, the world's welterweight championship should be decided when Mike Glover and Joe Eagan, the two South Boston wil'-o'-the-wisps, square off in their 12-round Queensberry contest at the Hippodrome tonight. Instead, only the New England title is at stake. That's because Glover did not take the trouble to make weight when going on with Ted (Kid) Lewis, holder of the crown among the welters, at the Arena last Fall.

Glover made the Britisher look foolish, showing him up completely. It was a catchweight affair. Otherwise, the championship would have gone along with the decision, which not even Jimmie Johnston, Lewis' manager, objected to.

Tonight Mike holds fair being packed from pit to gallery. Members of the Armory A. A. never let a good thing get away from them, and the Glover-Eagan skirmish is one that all boxing fans in New England have counted to see staged since the latter youth began paying strict attention to the game and started his sensational start up the line.

DIARY OF JESS WILLARD HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION

New York, Tuesday, March 21.

HALF-PAST FIVE was chiming when I awoke yesterday morning. A few minutes later it occurred to me I was starting on my twentieth day of work. There was some solace in that thought. It meant that my task was nearly completed, as today and tomorrow wind up the siege.

Twenty days of rigorous work is plenty for any man, no matter what distance he is going to fight. The old timers relate how this or that man worked for months getting in condition.

The veterans forget that the game is behind us and in those days affairs are conducted on a different plane. But probably when I reach the seur and yellow I will tell the youths of that generations how much better we did things in our day.

It was almost 6 o'clock when my trainers joined me. We went out for a jaunt. There was no jogging. That period is passed. Our only reason for taking the stroll was to fill our lungs with fresh air. In an hour we returned to the hotel.

Made Enemies for His Layoff.

For the next forty minutes I indulged in the simple exercises that work out the kinks. I had to steam up to make up for the loss of time, not having worked Sunday.

Starting off slowly, I worked back and forth until it was with the easiest effort I touched the floor with the palms of both hands. I could feel my body becoming supple. The next move was tackling the pulleys. I began this exercise at slow speed, but gradually increased the pace until the ropes were barking.

In going through this developing, I pulled the ropes in every conceivable direction. Finishing with the pulleys, I went through ten minutes of shadow sparring. After the sliding about was over I was perspiring freely enough to appreciate a dry rub. Then a hop into the tub and a few minutes later a massage.

It was close to 9 o'clock that we sat down to breakfast. My meal consisted of soft-boiled eggs and warm milk. Though I eat sparingly, I intend to penalize my appetite harder than ever the next few days to assist in removing one or two unnecessary pounds of flesh.

After reading for an hour or so, I dressed and went for a long walk up Riverside Drive. Afterward I answered many letters from my friends, wishing me luck. When I was ready to start off on my day's work it was decided that six rounds of boxing would be plenty.

Has Bully Afternoon's Work-out in Gym.

Hemple carried me along for two fast rounds. He was followed by Rodel. The two partners warmed me up for the Monahan person. Walter got in the ring determined to make me step about. We went at it hammer and tongs.

Finally me an opportunity to work a left uppercut, which I have added to the list. I stopped one of Monahan's leads with my head and a nice "cheainut" immediately popped forth. This is the first time I have been marked in any kind of a bout.

A number of celebrities came into my dressing room after the day's work was finished. They told me I was even better than they had anticipated.

We arrived back at the hotel shortly after 5 o'clock, but, though hungry, I stuck to a small collation of chicken. After dinner I glanced over the evening papers and shortly after 9 o'clock retired. Tomorrow evening my training will be history. That's the pleasantest thought of the whole affair.

BARROW'S LEAGUE MEETS

Raises Player Limit, Makes Circuit Switch and Announces Opening April 26.

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, March 21.—At a meeting of the International League here it was announced the season would open Wednesday, April 26.

The player limit was raised from sixteen to seventeen, and the transfer of the Jersey City franchise, from the Jersey City Baseball Company, to James R. Price and Fred Tenney of Newark, was ratified.

The schedule was adopted and sent to the printer. It will be made public next Monday. There was some discussion regarding a salary limit, but no action was taken which would change prevailing conditions.

The question of what shall be done with players who jumped to the Federal League during the baseball war was left to the individual managers.

Montreal will open the season in Baltimore, and Buffalo in Richmond. On the following day Toronto will open in Newark, and Rochester in Providence.

The financial litigation between the Newark club and Charles H. Ebbets of Brooklyn was put up to the National League grounds at Newark or was left to the Newark club to decide whether it shall use the International League grounds at Newark, or the Federal League park at Harrison.

The meeting at the Hotel McAlpin was attended by the following magnates:

J. J. McCaffery of Toronto; S. E. Lichtenhein, of Montreal; G. J. Simon and F. J. Donovan of Buffalo; C. T. Chapin of Rochester; W. H. Draper of Providence; J. R. Price and Fred Tenney of Newark; Jack Dunn and C. H. Knipp of Baltimore, and Alvin M. Smith of Richmond, Va.

Resolutions of sympathy in the loss of Pres. Diamond, vice-president of the Toronto club, were adopted and forwarded to Mrs. Remy Burguer.

Art Nehf on Sicklist

'Bush' Umpire Beats It

By JOHN W. MORAN, JR.

MIAMI, Fla., March 21.—Art Nehf, the clever young southpaw, was about the Gralynn Hotel this morning, none the worse of the sudden attack which forced him to cease pitching in yesterday's Braves-Seminole game, which ended in a 4-4 tie.

The Terre Haute kid suffered a pain in his side, which all hands think to be nothing more serious than an attack of pleurisy. Nevertheless, he will be given a thorough physical examination at once to determine if there is anything serious the matter with him.

John Evers exhibited in the dressing room this morning a right instep with a convincing cut on it, received in a close play at second base in yesterday's clash. While the cut was a trifle sore, it in no way slowed up the interior of second base. He'll be right in there this afternoon in the return game with the team from Fort Lauderdale.

Evers feels a trifle cocky today, for he declares that one umpire has been given all of the league without him having anything to do with it.

HON. CLEARY IS THROUGH.

Jack Cleary gathered together his effects after yesterday's clash, and declared with considerable certainty that he was done. He said he didn't particularly mind "riding," the playing, but objected to the entrance of a series of personal remarks.

From the first day Cleary worked Evers has been distinctly off him. Everybody has remarked that inasmuch as he received a letter Christmas asking that "rowdy ball" be abolished, he will not even try to get into an mild argument with the arbitrators all season.

At that, Evers does not admit that he even played "rowdy ball." He simply stated that all he had ever done was to play the game for all there was in it, and fight from first to last.

"Hennery" Gowdy is still among those on the injured list. In fact, "Hank's" the entire injured list, and, at current writing, it looks as though he were destined to be lonesome on the aforesaid list. However, it doesn't mean that "Hank" will be entirely idle.

With none run against them in yesterday's matinee the Seminoles started the "run-making" in the fourth frame. Dick Rudolph was pitching. Tragressor led off with a single to left, and pushed to third on Pitz's safe rap to centre.

HA-HA! EVERS DROPS BALL.

Evers passed one up the third base line which "Red" Smith promptly threw to second with the idea in view of forcing a man and possibly getting a double play. But Evers dropped the throw and both Tragressor and Pitzpatrick scored.

Egan raced to second, and on Connolly's single to centre went to third. Compton scored "Dick" with a hit to right, which landed Connolly on third, and on Collins' fly to centre, Joe scored, thus completing the run making for the Seminoles.

Compton started to steal second, and, when Blackburn's throw went to centre, he turned for third. Snodgrass made a good recovery and pegged Pete out at the far corner. That out, with Collins' sacrifice and a foul fly by Knetzer, formed all the happenings in the frame.

The first Braves counter came in the third, when J. Shannon dropped a perfect peg and allowed Snodgrass the base. "Snow" scored on Wilhoit's triple to right. In the fourth Smith walked, went to second on a wild pitch, took third on Maranville's single and scored on Blackburn's sacrifice fly to centre.

KONEY POLES LONG HOMER.

Konetchy has remarked that the first hitter in the sixth and promptly picked the first pitched ball to deep centre for four sacks. Then Blackburn walked, went to second on a wild pitch, after Knetzer relieved Nehf, which tallied the Big Train and scored on Tyler's double to right.

In the ninth, with one gone, Evers walked and Strand went in to run for him. Wilhoit singled and on Magee's infield out the runners moved up.

Right then Captain Fitz ordered Jess Barnes to pass Konetchy and take a chance on Smith. This was done, with the result that "Red" swung wildly at two and had the third strike called on him.

Del Gainer Will Be Late Reaching Hot Springs Camp

By HERMAN NICKERSON.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 21.—Manager Carrigan received a telegram late last night from Del Gainer, his extra first baseman, from his home at Elkins, W. Va., informing him he would be unable to report at present on account of sickness in his family.

Gainer said he was getting into condition at his home and would report as soon as possible.

RED SOX NOTES

By HERMAN NICKERSON.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 21.—Anderson is a bit of a crab. He is also a bit of a pitcher, and, even though he possesses some of that Johnny Evers stuff, it will help him more than harm him in the big show.

* * *

McHale is looking a good way ahead. He is figuring on a season in Vaudeville next Winter, and, as a feature to the act, is to have 300 or so feet of moving picture film taken down here to be used.

* * *

Pat Haley is a diplomat. He was up at bat yesterday morning and Gregg was pitching. "How was that?" roared the big left-hander. "Right over the plate," came back Haley. There could not be any argument on that stuff.

* * *

Ruth claims to have picked four winners at Oakland yesterday. When he sprang it he was sitting on the bench, after having pitched to the batters.

"Now I know the sun is hot," came from somewhere.

* * *

* * *

Ruth dared Carrigan to bunt on him, and Bill laid down the prettiest kind of a "creeper." There was no chance to get him at first.

* * *

The spirit of the boys is the best possible. They follow each other's work, and have the kind of fanning feats that count.

JANVRIN BURNT IN EYE AND MUST REST

Hot Springs, Ark., March 21.—Harold Janvrin, the Red Sox's crack emergency infielder, suffered a painful burn late last night when a flying matchhead struck him in the right eye, in his room at the Majestic Hotel. Manager Carrigan summoned a physician, and it is feared Janvrin will be unable to practice with the squad until next week.

AMATEUR GOES NOW LEGAL IN N. JERSEY

Trenton, N. J., March 21.—Amateur boxing is now legal in New Jersey. Governor Fielder has signed the measure legalizing bill. The measure was introduced for the principal purpose of allowing the city of Newark to have boxing contests in connection with the athletics to be a part of the anniversary celebration in that city. The bouts will have to be conducted under A. A. U. regulations.

DOPE ON THE HEAVIES.

Since Jim Corbett became the first Queensberry champion in 1896 the title has changed hands four times in sixty-nine rounds of fighting.

SPORT IN TABLOID.

Philadelphia, March 21.—The Penn. and Princeton basketball five clash in a post-season game on March 26 to decide the intercollegiate championship, providing the Penn. fifty ratifies the date.

Hanover, N. H., March 21.—Dartmouth 1918 won the interclass basketball championship by defeating the seniors, 34 to 23. Rau was the hero of the game.

New Haven, Ct., March 21.—Larry McLean, the former National League catcher, has acquired the New Haven (Eastern League) franchise. The price is announced as $9,000.

Pittsburg, N. C., March 21.—C. R. Fowler, Pittsburgh, was the Class A winner in the Tin Whistler annual medal play, best four-ball holes tournament, net score 66. C. L. Becker, Woodland, runner up, 64.

Harvard Seeks Another Win Over B. A. A.

Hockey of the most aggressive quality will be furnished the "fans" tomorrow night at the Boston Arena when the Harvard Club takes another crack at the B. A. A. in the Boston League series.

The B. A. A. is up against a peculiar proposition. If the Unicorn men win from the St. Nicks here Saturday, they win the championship of the Amateur League. If they lose to the Harvard Club tomorrow night they are practically out of the Boston League race.

Early in the season, when the Harvard Club was going none too good, Winsor said that before the season was finished he would take a fall out of the B. A. A. His prediction came true last week, and now he is anxious to make it two straight.

The Harvard Club men have little thought for B. A. A. concerning the latter's important match with the St. Nicks tonight, and the same brand of fast and rough hockey will be served the Exeter street men tomorrow night.

The Arena Hockey Club will leave on the 1 o'clock train tomorrow for New Haven, where the team plays tomorrow night. Many followers of the team will accompany the boys.

HARVARD SQUAD CUT TO 54 MEN

Coach Fred Mitchell has made his first cut in the Harvard baseball squad, retaining fifty-four men for further trial. The successful members who reported this afternoon in the cage are: Abbott, Anthony, Appleton, Ashley, Beal, Blair, Bothfeld, Boyd, Boyden, Coolidge, Cummings, Delano, Ellis, Emmons, Fripp, Garritt, Geer, Hardy, Harte, Heins, Hickey, Hitchcock, Hutchins, Kirk, Kurtz, Lee, Lockwood, Lothman, Mosher, Murray, Nash, Nelson, Nichols, Ordway, O'Keefe, Pew, Rice, Roote, Robinson, Rossiter, Safford, Snow, Stephens, Stuart, Thomas, Tyler, Walker, Ward, Webb, West, Whitney, Wiswell, Wyche.

HARVARD-YALE REFEREE CHOSEN

William H. Melkleham of Columbia has been asked to referee the Harvard-Yale regatta on the Thames June 23 and has accepted. The eligibility committee will consist of L. E. Sexton of Harvard and A. Barnard of Yale. The race will be rowed under the rule that if either crew is disabled by a bona fide accident during the first half-mile the crews shall be recalled.

WENTWORTH IS PICKED.

Hunt Wentworth, '17, of Chicago, has been elected captain of Harvard's swimming team for next Winter. He did the bulk of the work this season owing to the illness of Captain Fullerton.

Corbett Commends Jess Puts O. K. on Champion

By JAMES J. CORBETT,

Former Heavyweight Champion of the World and First Man to Win Championship Under Marquis of Queensberry Rules.

NEW YORK, March 21.—I saw Jess Willard for the first time yesterday afternoon and I had the biggest surprise of my life. I went down to the Pioneer Sporting Club, on West Forty-fourth street, where the champion is training, expecting to see a massive chap, who possibly might show some signs of knowing the game.

What a surprise! Why, that big fellow looked every bit as good to me as Jeffries did when he was champion.

I don't want to come right out and pick Willard as a sure winner until I have seen Moran work. I will visit the challenger's camp tomorrow afternoon. I will tell you what I saw there and then Friday will pick the winner in my opinion, and give reasons for the selection.

WILLARD HAS EVERYTHING.

Moran will have to be a wonder to convince me that he can whip Willard. Why, that giant has everything in the world that a champion needs. He can box, he can fight with both hands, too is a wonderful defensive man and a puncher has a good head.

I was impressed most with Willard's left hand. I had heard a lot of nothing behind it, that he pawed with it, instead of snapping it as I jabbed. I had heard wrong. That left hand has plenty of speed and power behind it. And he can hook it equally as well as he can shoot it straight.

The best thing of all about that left hand is that Willard can really uppercut with it. It is sort of a half uppercut, and, as he used it yesterday, I am sure this punch will worry Moran a whole lot.

You can count the men who can uppercut successfully on your fingers of your left hand. It is one of the hardest blows in the game to master. Willard has it down to perfection.

JESS OWNS GREAT KEEP.

Moran's best punch, undoubtedly, is his right hand to the body or jaw. Well, I believe that Willard can hit faster with his right than Moran can with his. And Willard knows how to use it seldom, but when he does start it, it never fails to land. It is a true sign of champion when a man lets his right loose, only when he is sure it will land solidly.

Willard's size is going to help him on this battle. All this talk about size not counting goes only when the heavier man does not know how to take advantage of it. Wonderful natural power makes Willard know how to make the best of his great weight.

Willard, probably isn't in as fine condition as Moran. But I don't think he needs to be. If he is in trouble any time during the fight, he has strength he will be able to keep Moran away with that long, massive left.

Willard is not lightning fast on his feet either. And again he doesn't have to be because of his strength.

Moran may land many a hard punch on Willard's jaw. But I mentioned particularly that Jess has the happy faculty of letting his head "ride" with these punches. And he surely can take them in the body.

WILLARD ANOTHER JEFFRIES.

When I started this story I said that I figure Willard the equal of the great Jeffries. I do. Both own corking left hands, with Jeffries probably the best hitter with the southpaw. As far as rights go I am forced to give Willard a shade the better of it.

Both of them are about even as far as the rest of the game goes. Jeff, but what a fight Jeff and Jess would have put up if they both had been at their best at the same time!

Read my story in the AMERICAN Thursday morning. I tell what I saw at Moran's training camp.

T. VATLAN TAKES COUNT

National 115-Pound King Knocked Out by Johnny Downs in 125-Pound Class at Title Meet.

N. E. A. A. U. Ring Champions, 1916

[illegible] class—Bill Casey, South Boston.
Lightweight class—Pat McCarthy, Roxbury.
Heavyweight class—Carlo Armstrong, Boston.

FOR everything, comedy as well as sport, the annual New England amateur boxing championships, staged last night at Mechanics' building, under the auspices of the B. A. A., were just about the best on record.

A ponderous house turned out for the batting, as Greater Boston boxing lovers learned many years ago this is a show they should not miss. The calibre of competition in all eight classes was unusually good, there were heaps of hardy milling, quite a lot of scientific stuff and, same as usual, several ambitious young gents showed, who will never show again.

And [illegible] pound class, Downs and Vatlan, both rivals, clashed in the second round and Downs put Vatlan down with a left to the jaw. In a mix-up later Downs knocked Vatlan out with a right to the jaw. It was the big sensation of the night.

RING RESULTS

Cincinnati, March 21.—While the majority of the newspaper critics gave Charley White the decision over Matt Wells, the best posted of the experts rated the bout a draw.

[illegible], March 21.—"Battling" Levinsky defeated Jack Keating in ten rounds at the Hudson A. C.

Philadelphia, March 21.—Johnny Ertle, the St. Paul bantam, outfought Young McGovern of Port Richmond, in the last three rounds and was a handy winner.

New Bedford, March 21.—Young Demers stopped Paddy Smith of New York, in the second round. Billy Cannon dropped Young Queen in the third round and "Curley" O'Connell in a Young Scholz went ten rounds to a draw.

New York, March 21.—"Battling" Levinsky defeated Jack Keating in ten rounds at the Olympic A. C.

New York, March 21.—Willie Johnson knocked out Johnny Dufor in the second round at the Olympic A. C.

New York, March 21.—Jimmy Duffy, of the West Side, was from Frankie Burns of California, in a fast ten-round setto at the Olympic A. C. Duffy ran up a wide edge.

STOCKS AND INVESTMENTS

By W. H. ROSS, Financial Editor

Stocks were strong at noon, although they ruled below the high for the day. The New York Stock Exchange market was quiet. During the forenoon a few issues had been offered in large stocks at slight price recessions, while others were in fair demand at slightly improved prices. Among the latter which had been weak were Tennessee Copper. By midday it was off more than three points. Taking the list as a whole it could be said, however, that the supply of stocks was not large. Anglo-French bonds advanced 1 7/8, as high as price any they have sold at in some time. This reflected confidence in the ultimate war success of the allies.

Gains at 12 o'clock included American Locomotive & Superior 1 1/4, Car and Foundry 1 1/4, Central Leather 2 3/4, Baldwin 1 1/4, Colorado Fuel 1 1/4, Sloss 2 3/4, Republic Iron & Steel 1 1/4, Maxwell 2, Studebaker 1 1/2, Mexican Petroleum 2 3/4, Marine preferred certificates 1 3/4, Baldwin Locomotive 1 3/4, Utah Copper 1/2, Anaconda 1/2, American Sugar 1, American Smelting 1 1/4, American Pacific 1/4, Reading 1/2, Southern Pacific 1/2 and Union Pacific 1/2.

Losses at 12 o'clock included Atchison 1/2, New Haven 1/4, Chesapeake & Ohio 1/2, Baltimore & Ohio 1/2, Atchison 1/2 and Steel 1/4.

Gains in Boston included Butte & Superior 1 1/4, Calumet & Arizona 2, Copper Range 1/4, Tamarack 1/2, Osceola 1/2, Quincy 1/2, U. S. Smelting preferred 1/2, Boston & Montana 1/2 and Shoe 1/2.

Among declines were Allouez 3/4, Granby 1/4, Mohawk 1, and St. Mary 1.

Among unchanged issues were Arcadian, Isle Royale, North Butte, Old Dominion, Wolverine, New Haven, Calumet & Arizona and American Woolen preferred.

STRONG AT THE OPENING.

Stocks were strong in New York at the opening, issues which were weakest at the close yesterday, moving among those to advance the most when trading was resumed. Initial gains ranged from fractions to more than three points. Active issues to show the largest were Best Sugar, American Can, Car Foundry, American Locomotive, American Smelting, American Zinc, Butte & Superior, Baldwin, Crucible, Distilling, Industrial Alcohol, Maxwell, Mexican Petroleum and Westinghouse. All were at least a point higher at the start. Zinc stocks were strong, but coppers, which remained comparatively firm during the near drive of Monday, were irregular early this morning. U. S. Steel began with a gain of ¼. Railroads were quiet and steady. Bull traders said there was nothing behind peace talk and that what was meant by the "end is in sight" is that Germany has begun to realize that it will eventually be defeated. However, despite the recovery this morning, nervousness was in the air. Liquidation of stocks was

Congress Should Give These Bills the Right of Way

THE mobile army of the United States—what there is of it—has been FOR THREE YEARS mobilized along the Mexican border. It has been, so far as its limited force is concerned, on a war footing, guarding the frontier of the nation, exposed at any time to armed military attack.

But when the attack came five days were necessary to equip a force sufficient to pursue a handful of Mexican raiders into their own territory.

We call attention to the fact in no spirit of carping criticism. The AMERICAN shares the confidence of the country in General Funston. The one trouble with the army is that it has not been given the support it merits. In view of Democratic congressional indifference to its needs, the wonder is only that the morale and spirit of the army are so high.

Superficially, the way would seem clear for some adequate preparedness legislation.

The President in his Western speeches proclaimed a program for national defence that the whole nation could, and did, applaud.

The chairmen of the Committees on Naval and Military Affairs in both Houses of Congress profess themselves in accord with the President's policy.

One House army bill and the Senate navy bill have been reported.

The pacifists, the little navy men, the foes of preparedness, who at the opening of the year were noisy and defiant, are silent and subdued.

To the appeal of the President that Congress speed up legislation both chambers responded by passing practically without debate the bill for adding 20,000 men to the regular army, and the House passed the urgent deficiency measure for the expenditure of $3,000,000 for the repair of navy vessels and the installation of anti-aircraft guns.

But under this seeming willingness to comply with the demand for enacting the urgent military and naval legislation are disquieting signs of that Democratic inertia which so often blocks a program to which Congress has apparently pledged its support.

In the Senate, Mr. Borah, describing with eloquence and with accuracy the situation confronting the United States, declared:

"If I had my way, I would limit the legislative program at this time to supply bills and preparedness. If the President is correct in the message which he carried to the people some weeks ago, the Congress is sadly derelict in its duty in meeting a most momentous situation. We have been in session three or four months, and we have been warned from the beginning, in the graphic language of the President, that the conflagration which is going on in Europe is sending sparks constantly on to this hemisphere, and no man knows from one day to another what emergency this country will have to face with reference to this condition of affairs."

Senator Borah's suggestion fell upon deaf ears.

In the House, Mr. Mann said:

"It is a time and a situation when we might wait to determine whether we shall erect a statue to a hero or devise further methods for gathering statistics, or taking up some printing matter, in order that we may consider speedily what we intend to do about an increase in our military and naval establishments. If it is to be done it is well that it be done now."

But the House, like the Senate, refused to be turned from its prearranged program.

Right of way was given to the immigration bill—a plan to keep willing workmen eager to contribute to the economic development of the nation out of the United States. The question of repelling armed invaders intent upon national conquest is permitted to wait.

These evidences of real indifference, in the face of smooth promises of speedy action, must not be ignored. In the House particularly the danger of disaster to the cause of national defence is present, though at the moment lurking under cover. It has found its purpose in delaying the committee hearings with vast volumes of useless "evidence" presented by vague theorists and pinheaded pacifists. It is likely to find its next expression in an effort to turn over the whole subject of preparedness to a joint committee of the two houses, thus entailing another year's delay in beginning a task already criminally belated.

It is a moment for public vigilance, for the vigorous expression of the public demand for immediate, constructive, adequate legislation for national defence. Only by such a demand incessantly urged will the nation get from this Democratic Congress even a share of preparedness legislation that is manifestly needed.

Flashes on the Screen

By S. E. Kiser

His Sweet Secret.

HE.

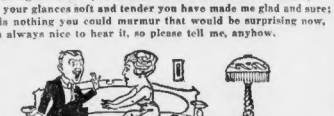
THERE is something I could whisper very fondly in your ear,
Something I have long been anxious that you might consent to hear;
But I need not now inform you what it is that I would say;
Why depend on words to serve us when there is a better way?

HAVE my eyes not told the secret that has long been in my breast?
Have you, while I lingered near you, never known or never guessed?
Need I ask you now to listen, need I grope for words to speak,
Since my eager sighs have given the assurance that you seek?

SHE.

YES, your glances have betrayed you, all that you could tell I know;
I have learned your lovely secret, you revealed it long ago;
There is nothing you could tell me that would now be strange or new,
Long ago I guessed the longings that have animated you.

BY your sighs I know you love me with a love that will endure,
By your glances soft and tender you have made me glad and sure;
There is nothing you could murmur that would be surprising now,
But it's always nice to hear it, so please tell me, anyhow.



Too Good to Lose.

"Hurry," said the ambitious surgeon, "get the instruments. We will amputate his leg."

"But it's only a simple fracture," the unsophisticated interne protested. "The leg can be saved, can't it?"

"It could be, but why save it? We can perform a beautiful operation before he recovers consciousness."

Yes, Yes, Mr. Bones, Go On

"I haven't seen Mrs. Wellwood for at least five years. She used to be such a beautiful woman. I always admired her poise. How is she?"

"Very well. She still has her poise, but there is something in front of it."

"What?"

"Avoirdu."

The Way to Character

By Lyman P. Powell

President of Hobart College

WHEN Charles Lamb stammeringly told Coleridge he had never heard him do anything but preach in his whole life he furnished the topic for this little word.

Nobody gets character on the instant. Nothing worth while comes, as Karl Pearson points out in his famous essay, by chance. Heredity seems to predetermine what a man will be; but as Maeterlinck has said: "To modify character must surely be easy to the man of unfettered will, for is it not constantly changing in the lives of the vast bulk of men?" Character at thirty is not character at fifty, and Arthur C. Benson, in one of his most charming essays, describes a very aged man who had character in spite of all the infirmities which often cripple character.

There is only one way to character and that is through the will. Jesus sums it all up in the stanza:

"It is will alone that matters!
Will alone that mars or makes,
Will, that no distraction scatters,
And that no resistance breaks."

The way to character is through the will, so that if will is made the product character will inevitably be the by-product.

There must be the will to believe. People cave to believe something. Nobody but has some philosophy of life. With the other world at war there is back of arms the will to exercise the same belief determined by the will. Not to believe is to have no plan in life that is lost. Neutrality is usually but another name for laziness. Indifference is suicide. Life is big, rough, ruthless, joyous, abounding, full. It is slumbering and waking; loving and friending; wonder and dismay; success and failure; flowers to smell and cheeks to touch—and then we are through.

But while we are having these experiences character grows as the will is exercised—the will to believe something rather than nothing.

Many seem to think that loving is instinct. There never was a love worth naming that was not under the domain of will. Temperament and emotion are at most the starting point. Congeniality but gives correct conditions.

Will takes one up to the highlands of duty.

Will burns with a pure and steady flame.

Will opens the understanding.

Will gives background for all of the unexpectedness and pain and trouble which life brings.

Will gathers up all the elemental forces of life and makes out of them a beautiful thing called love—and without will there never can be love.

Men of character not merely are good people. They do good things. Being good is a by-product of doing good. Most people know what they ought to do. The difficulty is in willing to do good and to keep on doing good.

There is a little of the beast in the best of us and sometimes we get torn by our own lower nature, or else through weakness of the will we let fair coasts make us stay in lotus lands. False friends hail us to keep company to our undoing.

We fail to use the will. From disuse it sometimes grows a little weak, and when the great occasion comes we are not equal to our role. And yet, it is only by doing things, not dreaming of them all day long, that we can keep alive.

The world wants people who do things. I know a magnificent dreamer with whom I talked long in trying to find a place in his scheme of things for doing. The final word I got from him was: "Go out into the market place and throw up your hat for a beautiful idea." There is a time to throw up your hat, but most of the time must be given to doing things—earning money to buy the hat.

Life is one thing after another. To be dreaming all day long is futility itself. To be always busy trying to make up one's mind which of various things is best to do is ordinarily proof positive of inefficiency. We live, after all, in deeds, and the only credit we deserve is for playing fairly the hand that is dealt to us at birth.

Mental Training as Aid to Business Success

Ella Wheeler Wilcox Advocates a Prescription for Men Who, Apparently Able, Yet Fail to Win the Recognition They Consider Worthy Their Talents

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox

Copyright, 1916, by the Star Company.

"SOME years ago I suffered a reverse in busines, due to a financial panic.

"Since then, as Mark Twain once said, 'When a man gets going down hill, everything seems greased for the occasion,' and everything I get into peters out.

"Here I am, a young man, well educated, a very wide business experience, have made good in every position I ever occupied (and have held some good ones), yet I am plugging along in a mediocre position, and why——

"I read in the papers quite often that there are more positions in this country for young men who can actually assume them than can be filled.

"Trouble is, the interested parties never come together. Advertising will not bring it, for my experience proves that big men, in search of a really good man, never search the want columns.

"Letter writing will never do it, the chance of hitting the right one is so vague.

"Possibly in your great, big, wide experience you might be able to help me, possibly open a way, for 'tis a pity when a man can do big things not to be able to get the chance. That is all I want.

"Very sincerely,

"A. S. B."

THE very best way to help this young man and all other young men or middle-aged men who are similarly situated is to awaken in them a consciousness of the power which lies in the human mind (through its Divine origin) and in the power of the spoken word. Mrs. Helena Martin, a brilliant woman, prominent in metaphysical thought of the day, has prepared training cards for different needs of human beings. Here is one which she has prepared for those who seek success in business. The twelve statements on this training card are to be made every night just before falling to sleep and every morning on awakening, before going into the conflict of the day. Precede each statement with the words, "I choose." Try this mental prescription for two weeks, making the statements at least twice a day and oftener when possible, in the silence of the room:

Simple Training Rules for Ambitious Men

(b) I am capable of great possibilities.
(c) The position is waiting for me.

Many Waste Vital Force in Useless Despondency

It is well to have a copy of these twelve statements, carried in the pocket or in the lining of the hat, and read them over in trolley cars or in waiting stations. Few of us realize how much vital force, constructive energy and precious brain stuff we waste in desultory thinking, in gloomy thoughts and despondent fears. Every moment, every second, we are helping to construct or destroy future success, health and happiness.

A training card, like that prepared by Helena Martin, read over and over until committed to memory, and then repeated whenever the mind is inclined to fritter itself on useless thoughts, acts like a rein on a wild and restive horse. Instead of permitting the horse to prance all over the prairie, race up the mountain side and go over the cliff, keep it on the road and reach your goal. TRY IT.

The Salt of Life

By Woods Hutchinson, M. D.

PART TWO.

EVIDENTLY there must be something else in vegetables which required common salt to neutralize or get rid of it. Further investigation showed that this injurious substance, in vegetables was potassium, familiar to us in potash, or lye, extracted from the ashes of trees or plants, which is salt to neutralize and wash out of the system the poisonous surplus of potassium. Which corresponded precisely with the practical results of age-long experience. So accurately in fact, it did correspond that those foods upon which we have become accustomed to use the largest amounts of salt, such as potatoes and green corn, were found to be precisely those which contained the largest amount of this poisonous potassium.

From this peaceful and pastoral role of supplying battery fluid for our body's electro-motor and neutralizing the potassium poison of our vegetarian excesses upon potatoes and cabbage and corn, it seems an extraordinary leap to the horrible, suffocating "poison gas" in the trenches of Flanders, and yet this same harmless, life-supporting chlorine in the angel-demon which in gaseous form is also capable of this atrocity.

Bunge found that in health the kidney filter worked rather slowly and with difficulty upon potassium, but that if about an equal amount of sodium chloride was added it "lubricated" the filter at once so that it would easily and promptly wash out all the excess potassium. To put it very roughly, sodium chloride dissolved or made soluble potassium, so that it could be readily washed out through the kidney filter, something as gasoline or strong soap added to wash-water will dissolve or wash out grease spots.

The net result was that whenever vegetables or vegetable substances formed more than a third of the diet (and they form two-thirds of most diets) it was necessary to take a certain amount of free sodium chloride or common salt to neutralize and wash out of the system the poisonous surplus of potassium. Which corresponded precisely with the practical results of age-long experience. So accurately in fact, it did correspond that those foods upon which we have become accustomed to use the largest amounts of salt, such as potatoes and green corn, were found to be precisely those which contained the largest amount of this poisonous potassium.
